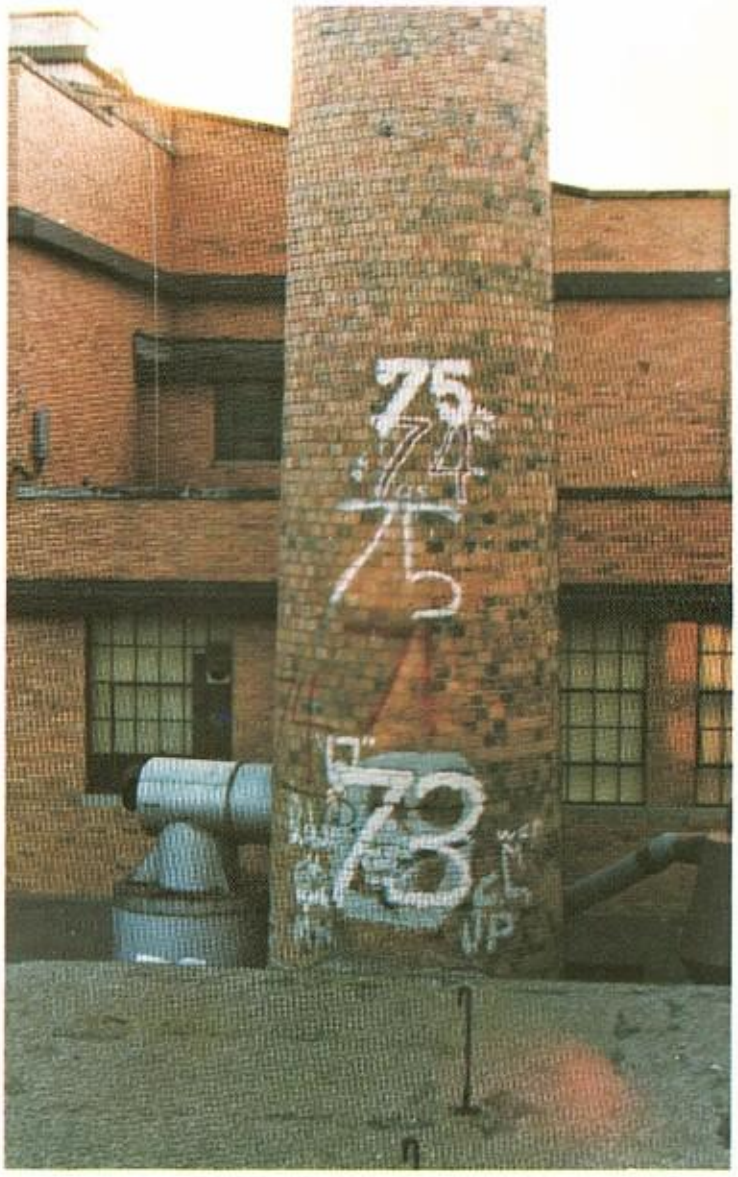
THE YEAR . . .

Current events strongly affected the students and faculty of Elston. Disputes with Arab oil companies and wheat deals with Russia brought criticism from consumers here at home, while foreign criticism came after our intervention in troubled affairs in the Mediterranean area. National news was no less disturbing as the Watergate trials dragged on and on, and the slump in the economy caused problems for all, especially those on fixed incomes, such as senior citizens. President Ford had rough beginnings in office as he faced the unemployment problem, inflation, and a suffering stock market.

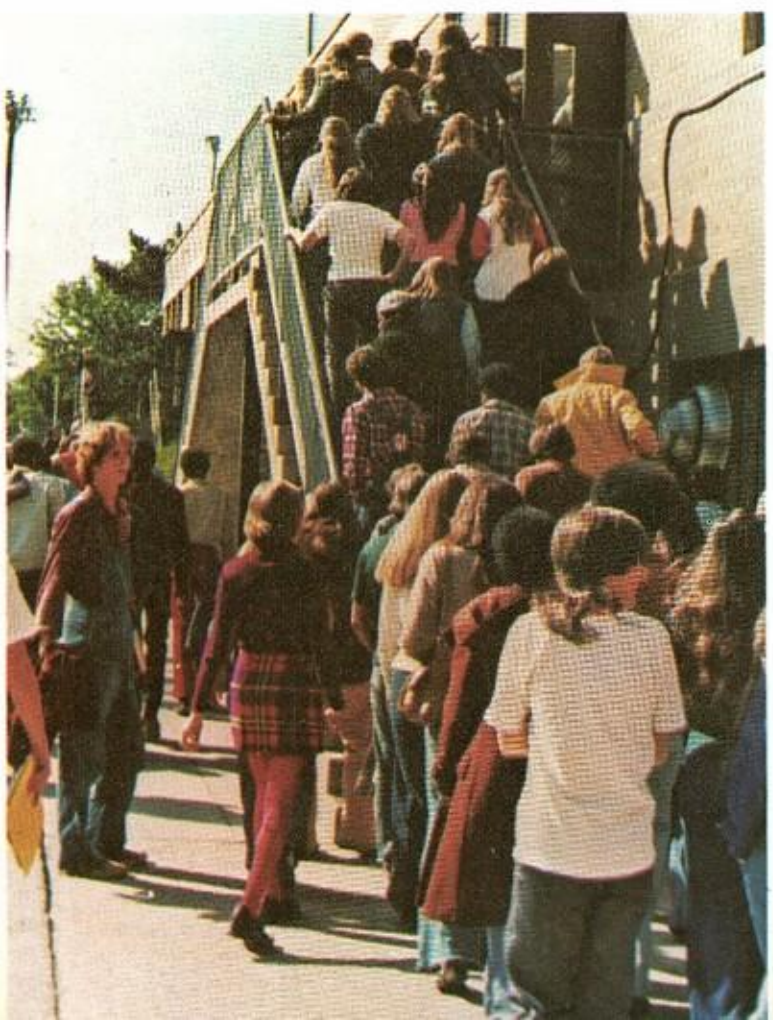
The local scene was considerably brighter, though. Beachway began to take shape as the new News-Dispatch building opened, and plans for the new city hall and main library were advanced. Changes for the park area, which included a new bandshell and better pier facilities, seemed to be more than just rumor, and many businesses downtown underwent extensive remodeling. The south end of town continued growing as many new businesses opened throughout the year.

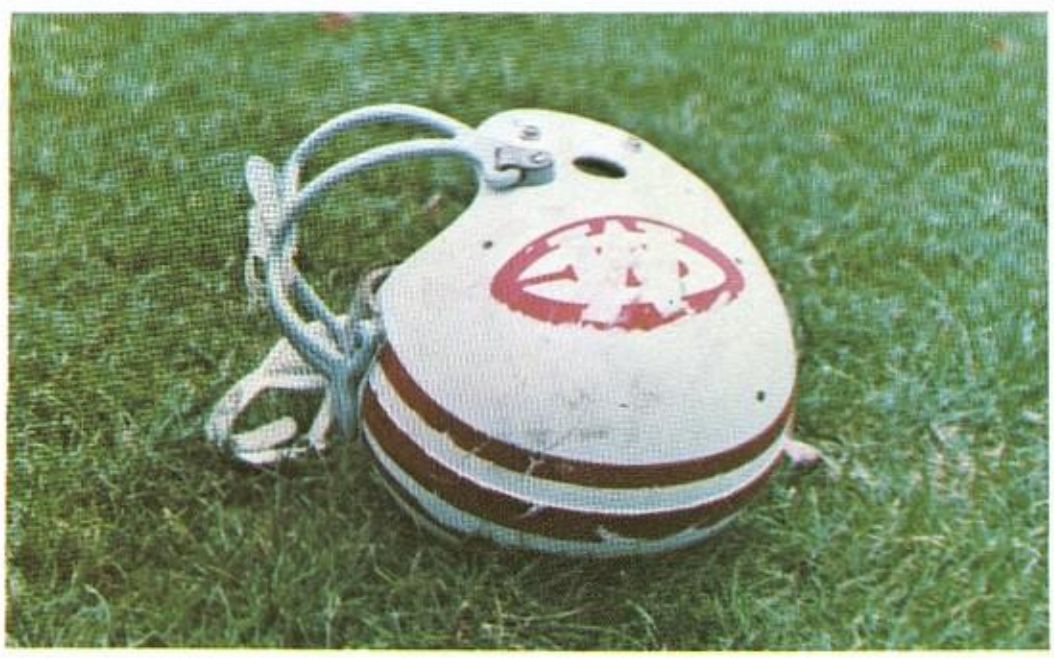
These events involved the students of Elston because the futures of Elston students were bound to be affected by their final outcome.

As we walk down the halls of our own M.C. Lets look around and try to see If one of our brother's head is sown . . . Perhaps all he needs is a friendly sound. Greg Kmiecik



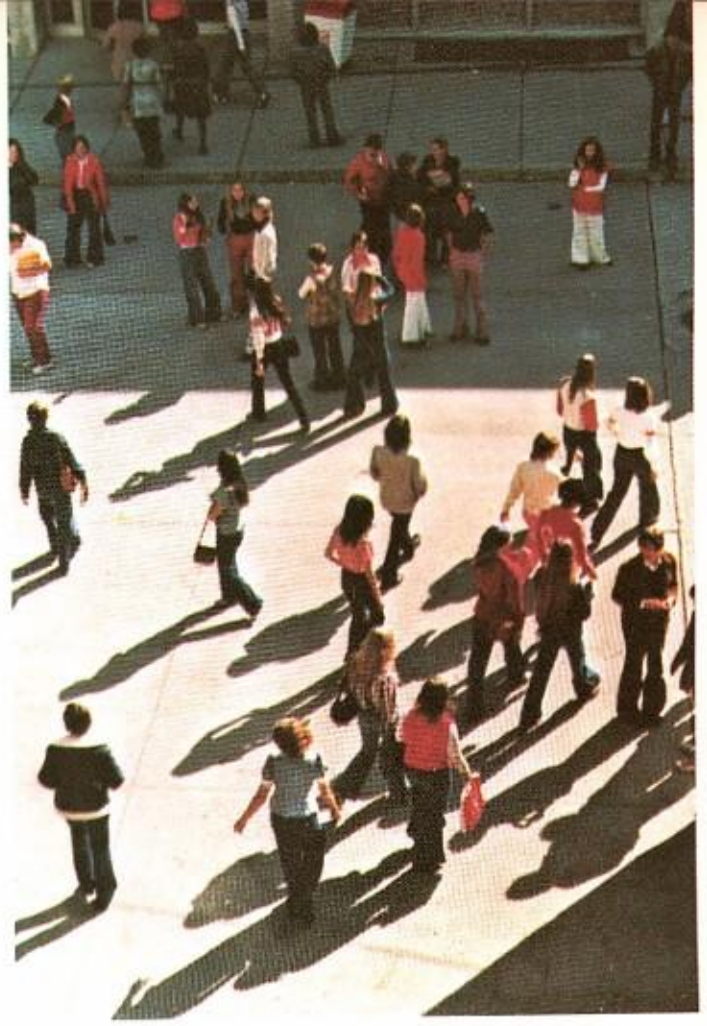
What truly upsets me is when a person starts a fight with you and you just defend yourself, but you get suspended. R.B.

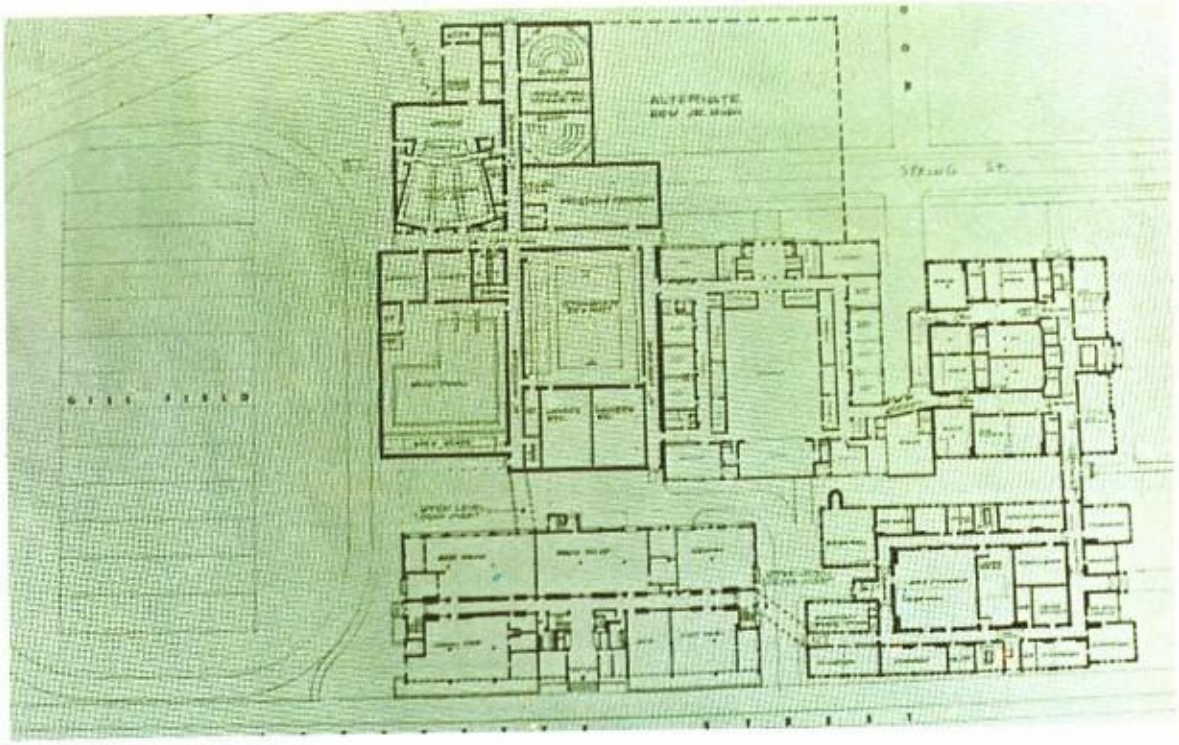




The most favorite thing in the world to me is to see the Michigan City Red Devils win the state tournament in "75." E.H.

The most important thing to me is the victory of graduating when I'm a Senior. Alex Poplawski





. . . AT ELSTON . . .

For those of us at Elston, the 1974-1975 school year held both good and bad. Although certain fall sports had rough seasons, other teams, such as the girls' golf team, more than made up for that. Throughout the year, curriculum committees of students and teachers met in efforts to improve the academic offerings at Elston. Using. the strengths and weaknesses of the Phased Elective English program as a basis, new plans were worked on for other courses. Feelings were also very optimistic as plans for the remodeling of the older Elston buildings and the addition of fine arts facilities were revealed to all of us. Many of us knew we would not be here to see the propositions become reality, but it was good to know that we at Elston had not been forgotten.

I'm grateful that I can laugh and be laughed at. B.V.

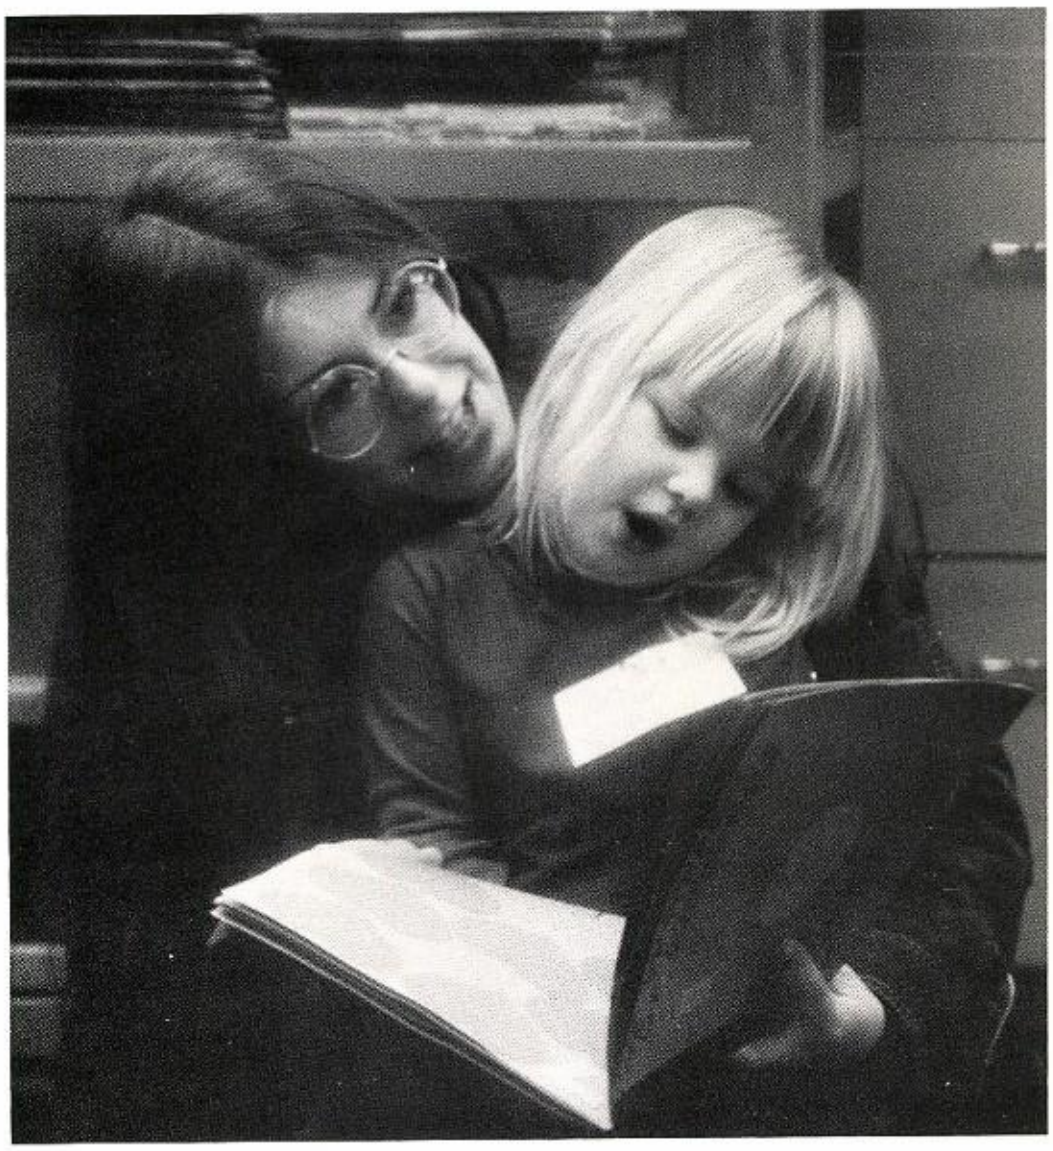
When you smile, the school will smile with you, but when you frown, you will frown alone. Carrie Zerbe

The most important thing to me . . .

. . . is to keep on smilin'. Bob Holmes

. . . is that other people think I have feelings, too. Anonymous

I want to be able to make my own decisions. If I could not do this I would feel as though my life was being wasted away in a prison. Debbie Rux



. . . A TEAR AND A SMILE

A students life is full of ups and downs; days when everything goes right, and days when everything seems to go wrong. Emotions strongly affect our abilities to do right or wrong, and by the time a student reaches high school, he has usually experienced them all: the satisfaction of a perfect paper, the agony of a blown test; the shouts of victory, the tears of defeat; the pain of seeing a friend lost to someone more popular, the warmth of a new friendship. And finally, thoughts of graduation will bring back these long forgotten memories, and we will recall our years at Elston . . . with a tear and a smile.

EVENTS

Black is the opposite of white, good opposes evil, yin and yang oppose each other, but neither should be considered bad. A tear opposes a smile, but once again neither aspect should be thought of as the lesser or the worse. Having both extremes, without too much of one, the matter is balanced.

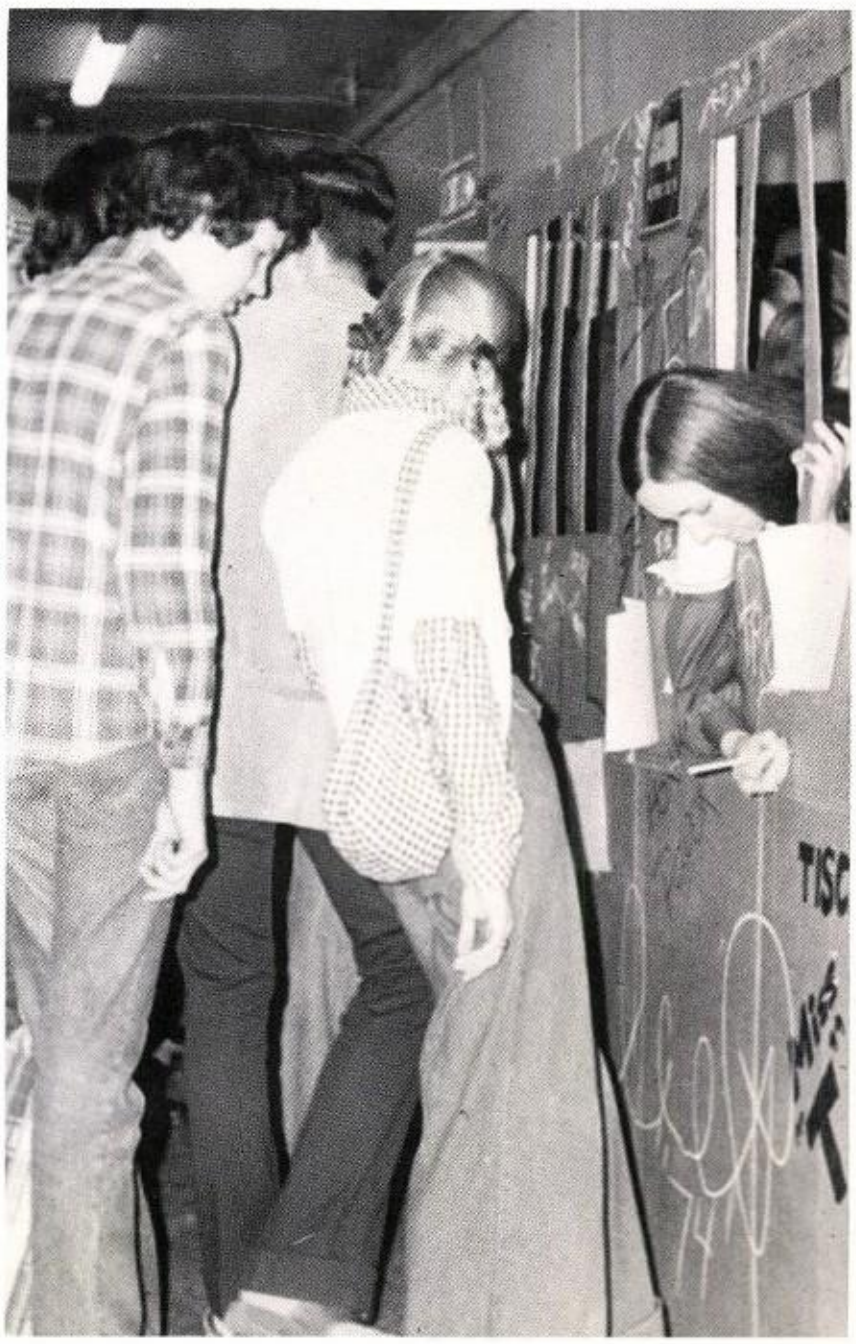
Class Olympics Complete The Squeeze

The students of Elston turned in an outstanding $4152 for the Squeeze last year. The Class of '74, through such activities as the Senior Car Wash and Bastille Day, showed senior superiority with $1966. Juniors took second with $1435 and the sophomores brought in $750. The trophy for most money turned in went to Mrs. Harrison's homeroom with $638. Squeeze funds went mainly to the LaPorte County March of Dimes and Heart Association.

Winding up Squeeze Week, the annual Class Olympics were held, uncovering many hidden athletic abilities. Each class hoped for a victory and the $100 award to their Squeeze credit. But the Class of '74 easily won the prize.



City Slicker Day Brings Back "50's"

After Mr. Jones proclaimed one day of last year's Spirit Week to be City Slicker Day, students searched frantically for tight pants, long skirts, sweaters, and everything else that was big in the "50's." Guys broke out the 30 wt., girls smeared themselves with red lipstick, and everyone sported white socks with Beatle boots or saddle shoes. An assembly at the end of the day proclaimed Chris Plant and Regina Cross as Elston's official "Mr. and Mrs. City Slicker."

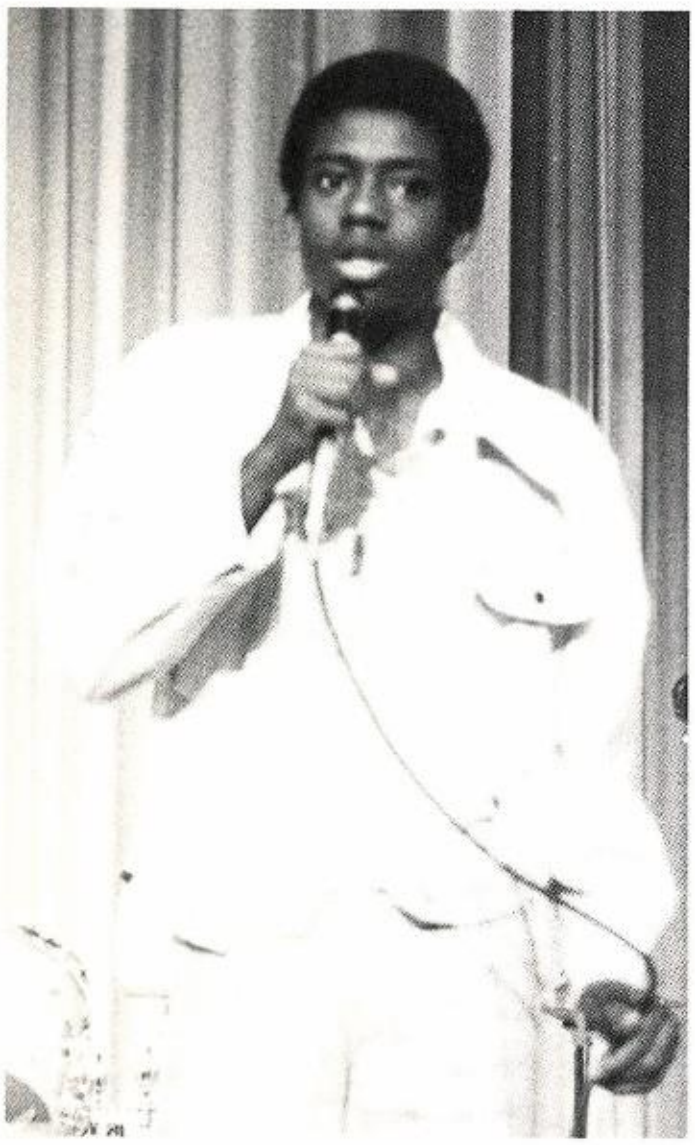
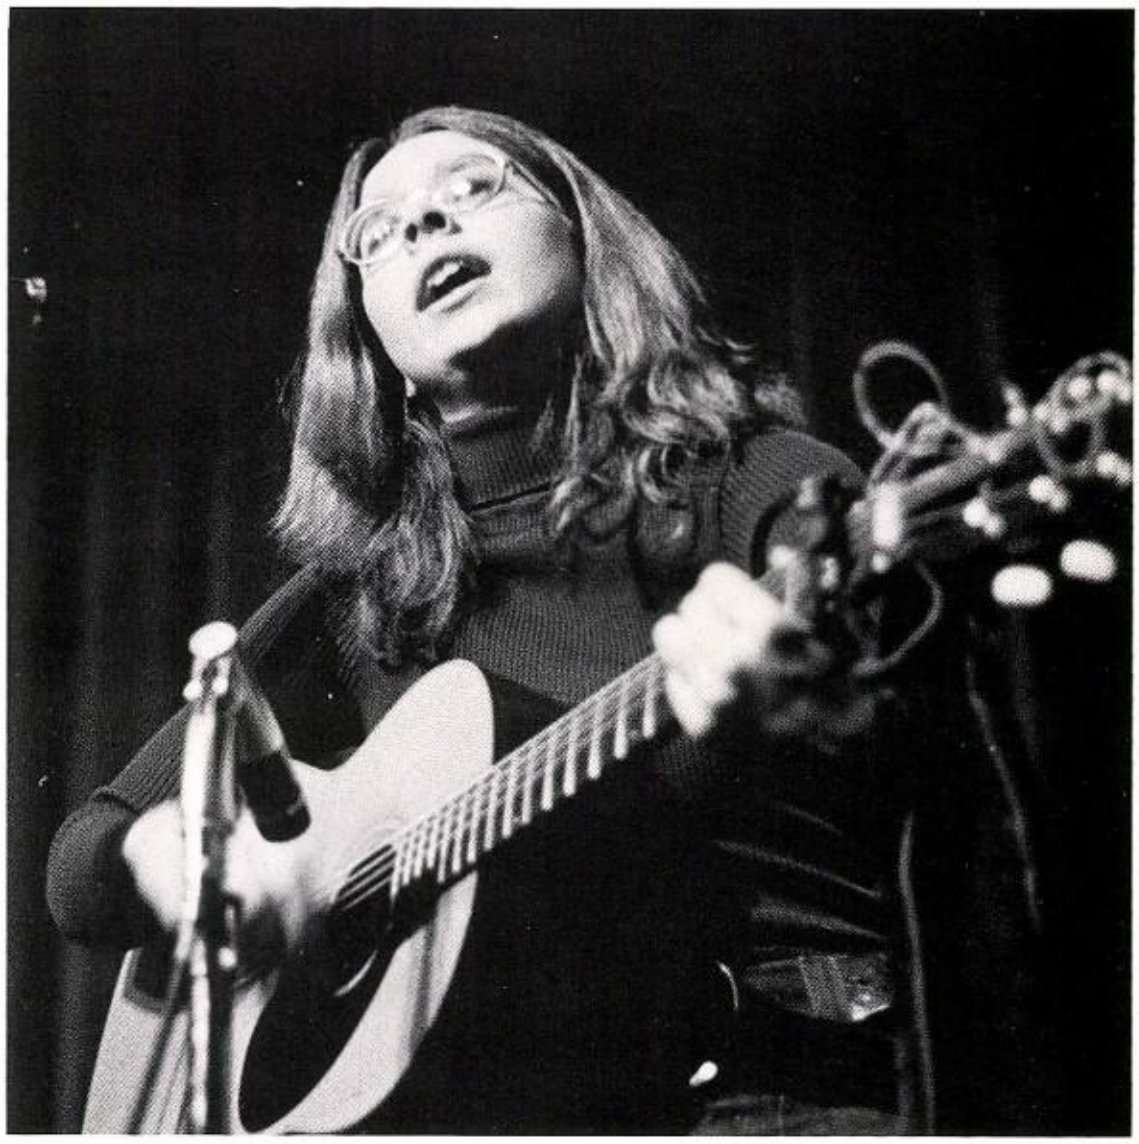
Thespians Present Musical Extravaganza With Summer Encore

Presenting the musical comedy "Hello, Dolly" was more like a comedy of errors for those involved. But it wasn't all that funny. Dolly, Laura Martin, performed painfully after her motorcycle accident a few weeks before the show. Dennis Saffer, playing Cornelius Hackl, was discovered to have "walking pneumonia," and had to be replaced for the opening night by Carl Wipperman. The next night Dennis was back, gulping aspirin between scenes, while Irene Molloy, played by Karen Sterchi, was on stage with a 102° fever. Despite the difficulties, good direction, determination, and perseverance, as well as talent, combined to carry the show off. The show was so successful, the cast and crew brought "Dolly" back for two additional performances in June.

Hams 'N' Lambs Brings Smiles

Talents never before suspected of Elston students were displayed at the 15th annual Hams 'n' Lambs. With the amiable Mr. Freitag as emcee, the program included such varied acts as dramatic readings by Jennifer Smith and Regina Cross, a "roast" for Mr. Jones, a gymnastics demonstration by Pam Krause, and Ted Soller as "The Streak." Musical acts included guitarist Robin Scholer, soul singer Bobby Foster, pianist Carol Patterson, singers Eileen Doyle and Mrs. Harrison, and '50's-style rock and roll by Danny and the Butts and his crowd of fans. All in all, the show provided an enjoyable evening of entertainment.





Elston Bowl Splattered By Mud

Last year, teams consisting of three students each, representing history classes, met in the McIntire Media Center to compete in the Elston version of It's Academic — The Elston Bowl. After all elimination rounds had been completed and championships were under way, two of Mr. Freitag's classes proceeded to take top honors. Mud, consisting of Alex Armour, Cathy Nazimek, and Terry Dunne, defeated all challengers as Don Pellegrini, Ed Summers and Sam Willis, known as Donny and the Twinks, took second.

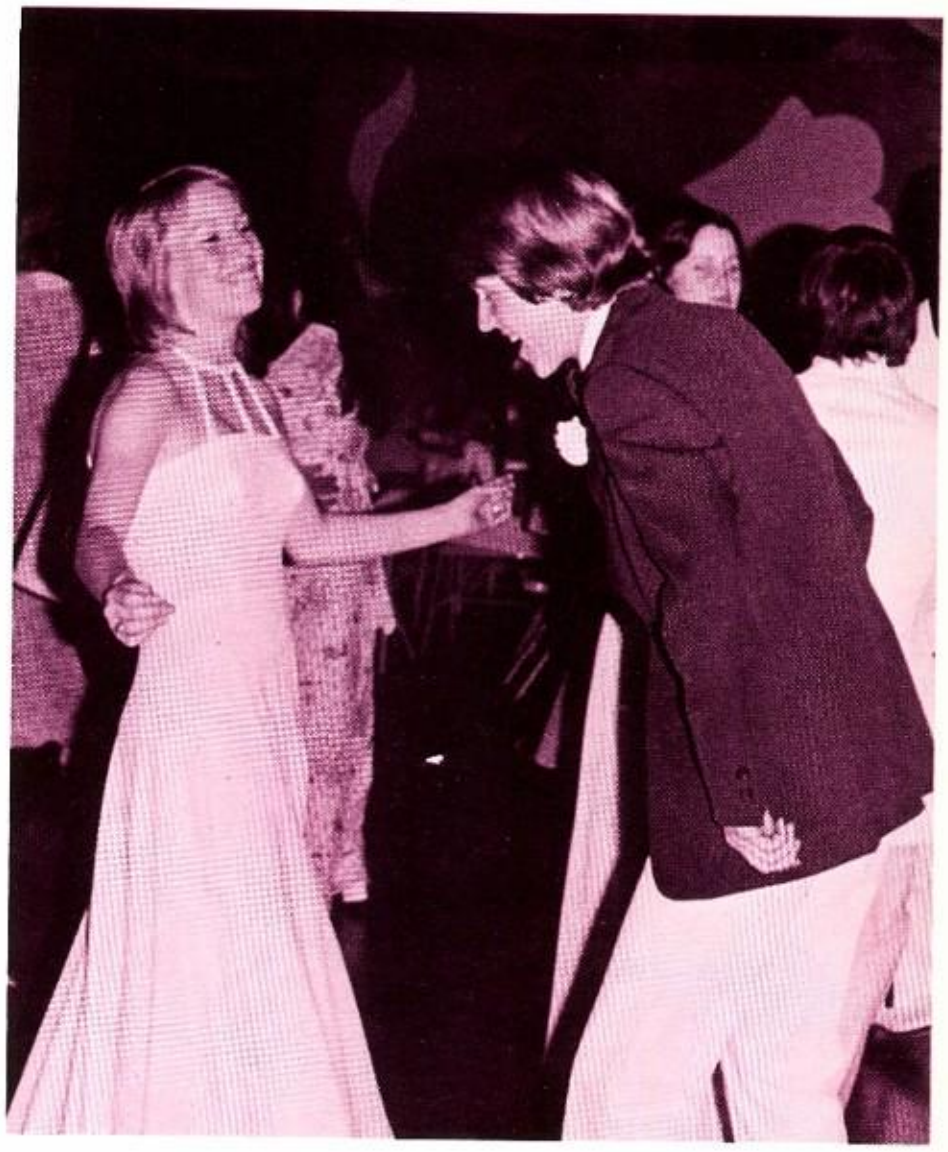
Gemini Prom Brings High Spirits



The 1974 Junior-Senior Prom held many memories for the 330 Juniors and Seniors who attended. The gym was decorated with the signs of the Zodiac, and Sophomores dressed as gypsies and fortune tellers to carry out the theme. The band was "Tommy Wells' Orchestra." As the clock tolled 12, everyone moved to the Elk's Lodge for Post Prom, where the theme was "Stars and Moonbeams." "City Limits" and "Future" provided the music.

Graduation Climaxes Busy Years

On June 6, 1974, 372 students graduated from Elston Senior High School. Barry Criswell, class president, led the 102nd graduating class into the gym, where they listened to guest speaker Dr. John Tucker, from Purdue North Central. He spoke on the need for individualism. Following his speech, Mr. Jones awarded top honors to Marilee Smith, valedictorian, and Linda Yuhas, salutatorian. Rev. George Bowie gave the invocation and also the benediction. President of the School Board, Dr. Robert Taub, presented the diplomas.

Students Experience Democratic Systems

Ever wonder exactly how our governmental systems work? Last summer four Elston students gained enlightening political experience at Boys' and Girls' State where they participated in mock city, county, and state governments. Nancy Mershon and Cindy Edling attended Girls' State and Alex Armour and Ken Smith took part in Boys' State. Both sessions were held at Indiana State University in Terre Haute. The students were assigned to dorms, each representing a county, and floors, each representing a city. Each city was divided randomly into two political parties. Conventions were then held to decide party policies and to elect candidates for office. After elections, each member of the mock state had a governmental job for the rest of the week. Assemblies included informative lectures, honor presentations, and a talent show. All four representatives reported an enjoyable, valuable week.

Miss Harrison directed this year's Human Relations play, "Purlie Victorious." "The subject of the play is power; the black man's quest for the authority to lead his people out of the grips of tyrannical white bosses who make their fortune from the hard labor of their black hands," said Miss Harrison. "It deals with the problem of man's inhumanity to man. The conclusion is that people who are thwarted by being kept ignorant, poor and oppressed come to fruition by being led out of their fear, complacence and self-doubt."

Homecoming Brings Bright Spot To Dim Season

Homecoming is a time-honored tradition of Elston Senior High. This year, clubs and organizations chose their candidates, and the thirty girls were presented to the student body at a two-hour morning assembly/pep session on October 18th. Students voted by homeroom sections, and cheers and relays passed the time while votes were being tallied. The five finalists, Iris Baumgartner, representing Office Messengers, Linda Brown, Student Council, Rosanne Espar, Band, Kay Rusboldt, Hall Monitors, and Laurie Shover, Science Club, were then announced, and each was asked an unrehearsed question by Principal Warren Jones. The final choice for the 1974-75 queen was not announced until half-time exercises at the Homecoming game that night. Dennis Saffer, Senior Class President, acted as emcee, and last year's queen, Elaine Janasiak, announced the new Queen. The game was somewhat less than a decisive victory for the Devils, but spirits were high as Rosanne Espar was crowned by her predecessor and received a bouquet of flowers, along with congratulations, from Mr. Jones.

Elston's "Odd Couple" Goes On Stage

On November 22, 1974, Neil Simon's Broadway hit, "The Odd Couple," was presented at Elston. Performing on stage for the first time was Dave McGowan, playing Oscar Madison. The story revolved around the disruption of Oscar's unorganized life by his fastidious friend, Felix Ungar. Felix was played by Dave Block. Directing the play was Mrs. Dunlop, and assisting her as student director was Mike Finger. The whole cast performed hilariously, aided by an "untidy" set, designed by technical director, Mr. Holdcraft.

Seniors Prepare For The Future

The Class of '75 experienced a whirlwind year as they prepared to leave Elston. They took charge early, leading the student body to excel in many different areas: decisions on school life through the student council and steering committee, loyalty through pep sessions, and excellence in other school events, such as the Squeeze. As the excitement of graduation descended, there was still time for quiet reflection on past years and the good and bad experiences those years had brought. As the year drew to a close, they decided all the laughter and tears had been worthwhile. So the class of '75 accepted the challenge graduation offered, filled with memories of the past and hope for the future.

Scientists Learn Through Laboratory Experiments

Labs, lectures, and demonstrations are just a few of the activities of the science department. In Physical Science, students gained practical knowledge of the world around them through lectures and visual presentations. Chemistry classes were designed to give students an insight into the world of chemical sciences. This was accomplished through a series of experiments, movies, and demonstrations. The physics course taught the hows and whys of diversified fields of science such as electronics, motion, and nuclear physics. Advanced Science was a combination of advanced biology and chemistry. The college level course consisted of lab exercises and student-teacher discussions, along with individual work on the part of the students.

Vocational Classes Prepare Students For Future

For the second consecutive year, Mr. Brammel's building classes built a house in the country. They put forth a lot of time and hard work, and upon completion they planned to sell it. Auto trades classes learned to repair cars, doing such jobs as tune-ups, and brake jobs. Other vocational classes offered were power mechanics, machine shop, vocational electricity, graphic arts, welding, aviation flight and mechanical and architectural drawing. The goal of these classes was to teach the student a trade he could pursue after graduation.

Music Classes Echo Through Hallways

Music classes afforded students the opportunity to learn to sing and sound better together as a group and to harmonize when it was needed. In Music Theory students were exposed to the composition and transposition of written music. Ear training taught the students to recognize intervals, notes, and pitch, and other musical devices.

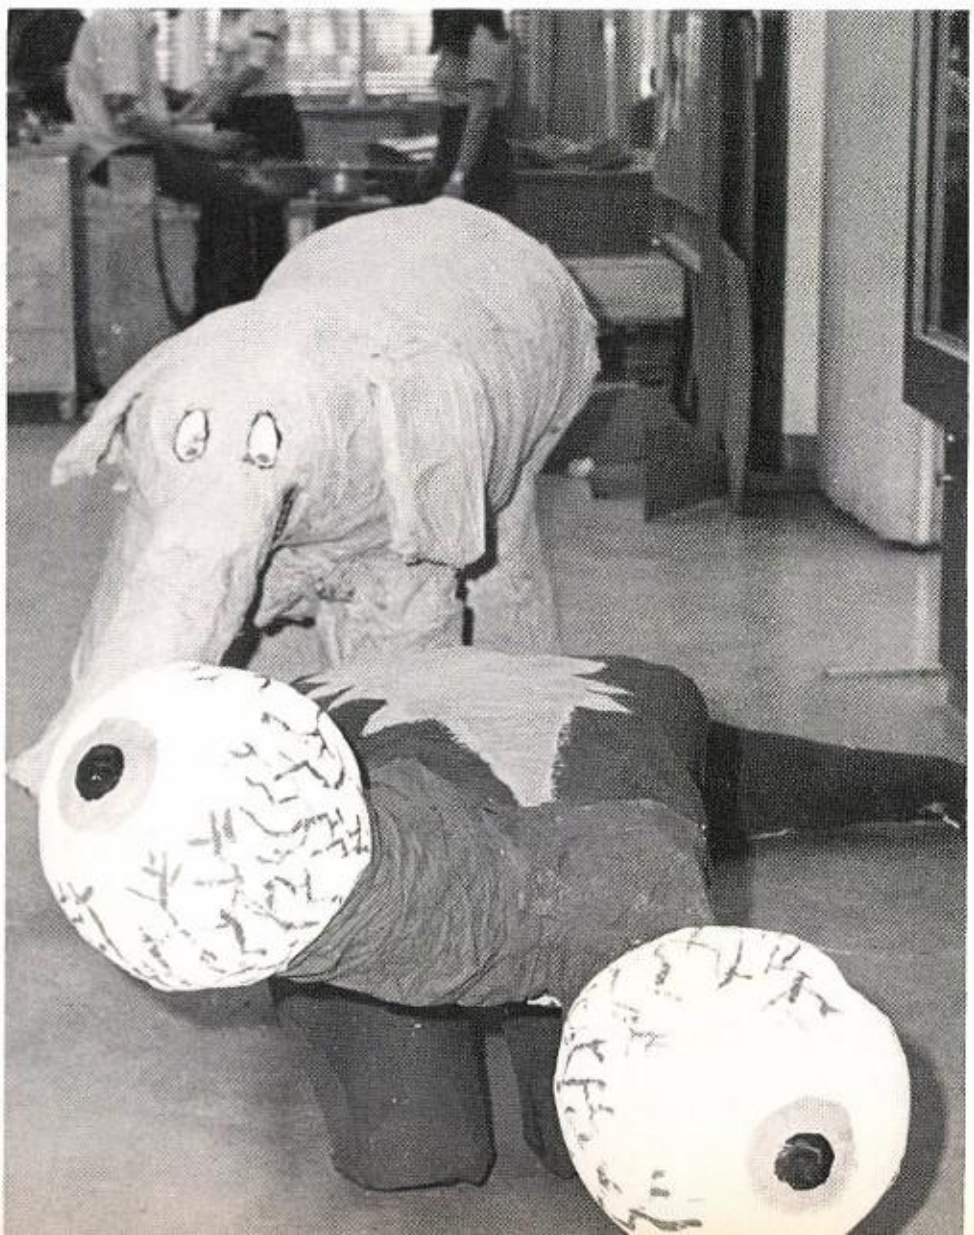
Artists Master Media

In art classes, students let their creativity run wild with materials such as clay, paper maché, fingerpaints, and watercolors at their disposal. As one of the year's major projects, Elston and Rogers students got together and made a calendar illustrated with some of their best drawings and paintings. The profits made from their sales went to the purchase of more materials. Under the watchful eye of Mrs. Brubeck, students cultivated their artistic talents.



Math Department Adds Two To Two

The math department took on a new look this year with several changes. Joining the staff were Mrs. Hegg, who taught trig./analyt., geometry, and probability and statistics, and took over the job of department head. Also new was Mr. Tilden, teaching Alg. II/trig., calculus, and geometry. Here from previous years were Mr. Lockridge, teaching geometry and Algebra II, and Mr. Warner, who taught arithmetic, geometry, and Alg. I.

Business Classes Promote Efficiency

Business classes helped students learn the essentials of success in the business world. Typing I and II taught students to type business letters, invoices, bills and other important forms. Shorthand made note-taking and dictation much quicker, while bookkeeping taught students to keep accurate records. Office machines familiarized classes with basic office equipment, and Business Law and Math helped students find the solution to deeper business problems.

Pilot Hopefuls Push To Leave Planet Earth

In aviation classes students learned the crucial steps of how to maneuver an airplane successfully. Through the marked knowledge of Mr. McAnally, the rookie pilots were given instructions in the handling of a plane in difficult situations. Since it was impossible to gain actual flying experience in class each day, the flight simulator was used to practice altitude changes, flying over mountains, and also the landing of the aircraft. All in all it was an excellent beginning course for the future pilots.

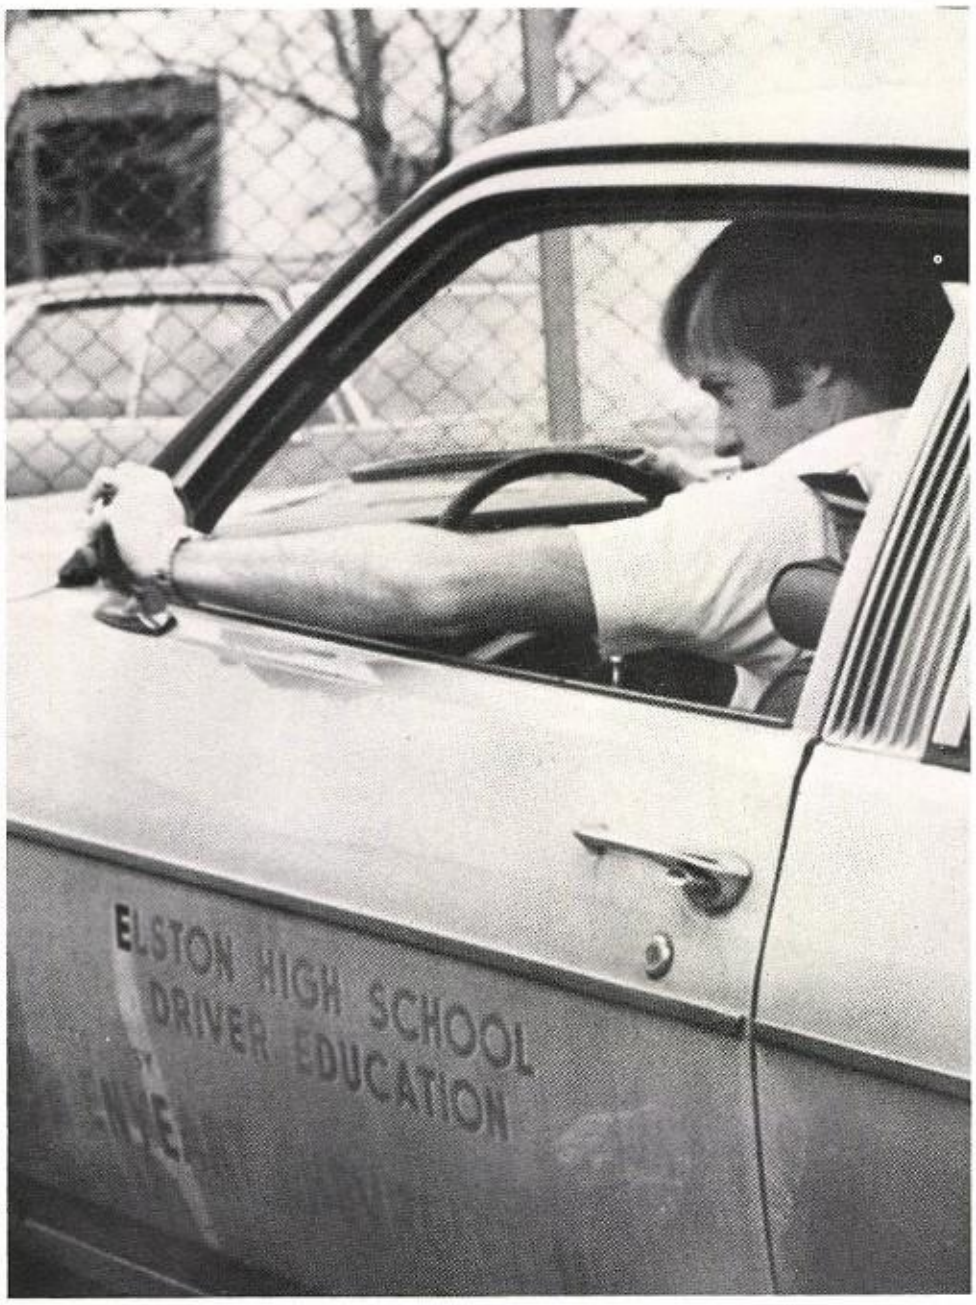
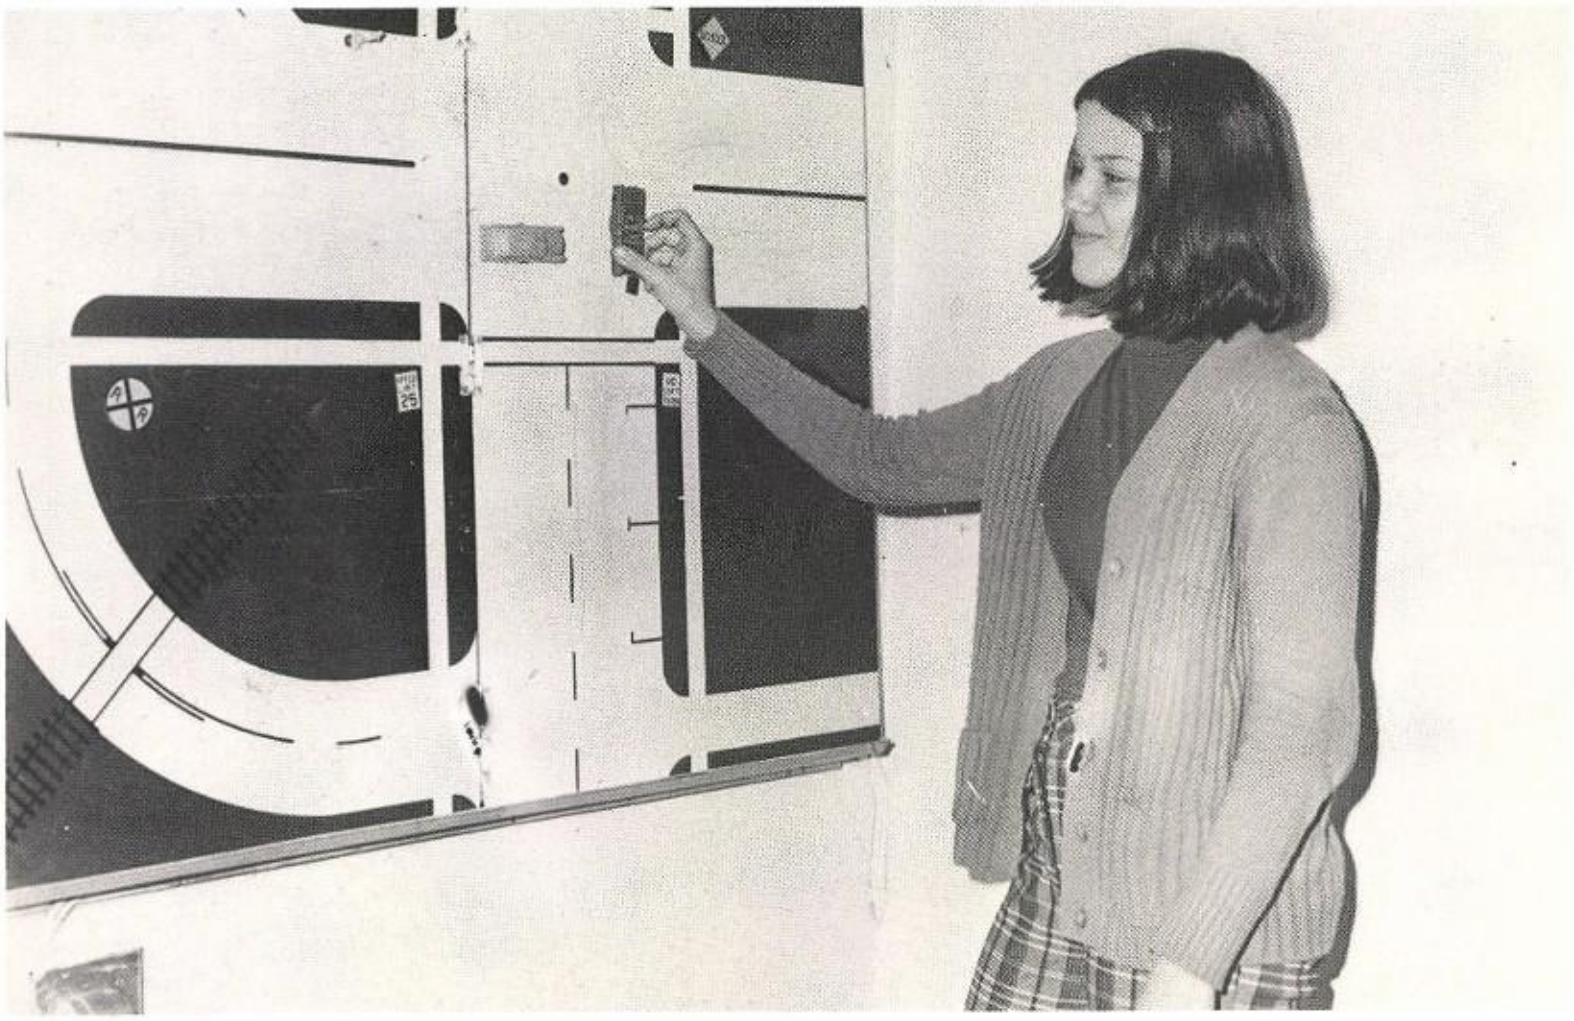
Pros In Traffic Arts Hit Highway



Driver's Education classes prepared Grand Prix hopefuls for the rigors of handling an automobile in traffic. The department offered students experience in situations that commonly occur in everyday driving. In addition, instruction was given on how to handle unusual circumstances and equipment, such as crash situations, driving a pick-up truck, pulling a trailer and stick shift driving. In order to pass the course, the student had to parallel park, drive a standard transmission car, and handle a car in all traffic predicaments that were encountered during the course.



P. El. Survives Growing Pains

Last year's experimental Phased Elective English program came into full swing this year for all juniors and seniors. While sophomores continued with the usual full-year English program, the remaining students were able to choose a semester course from several offered. The courses were in three main categories: literature, composition, and communications, and ranged from study of The American Novel or Creative Writing to Theatre Appreciation or Mass Communications. The new program was popular with most students because they were able to choose a class in line with their own interests and abilities.

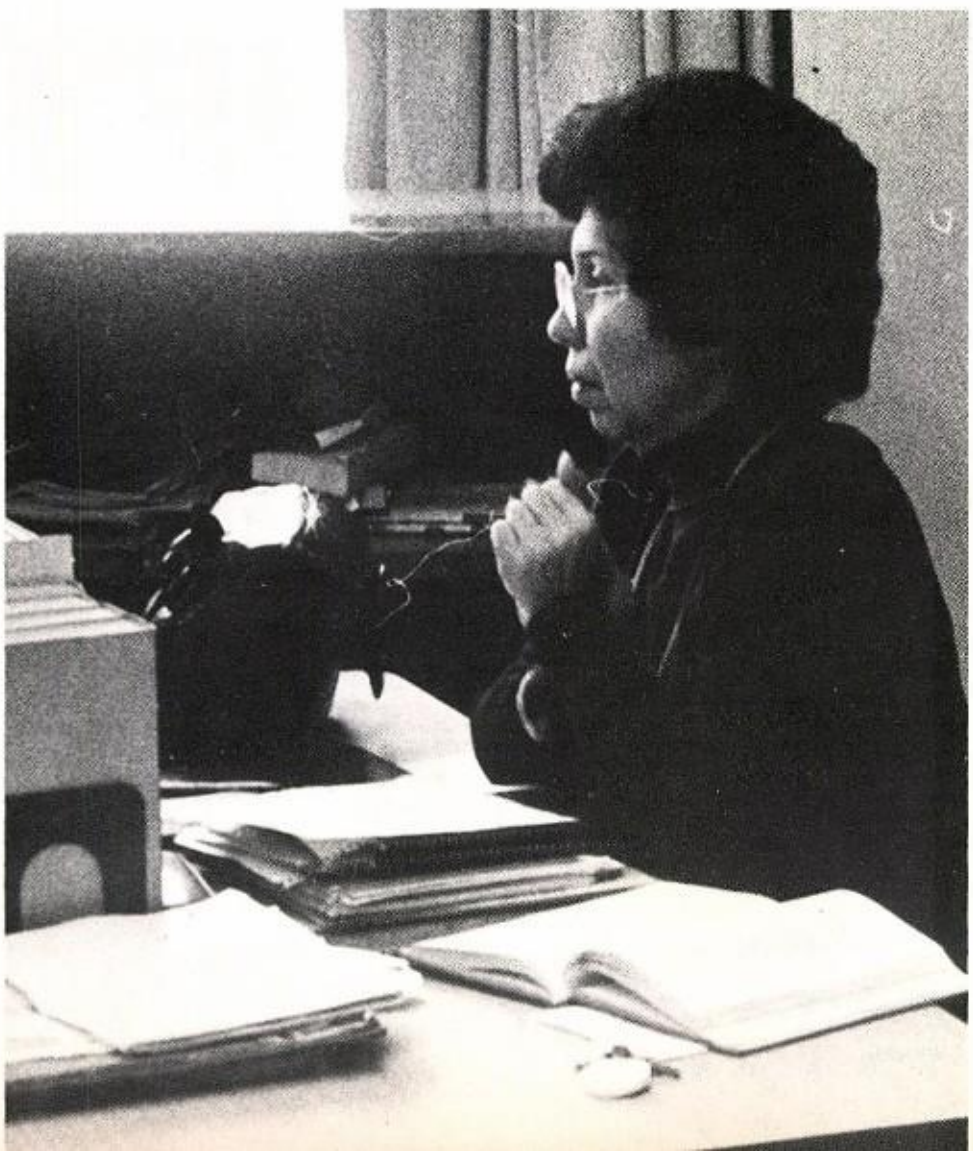
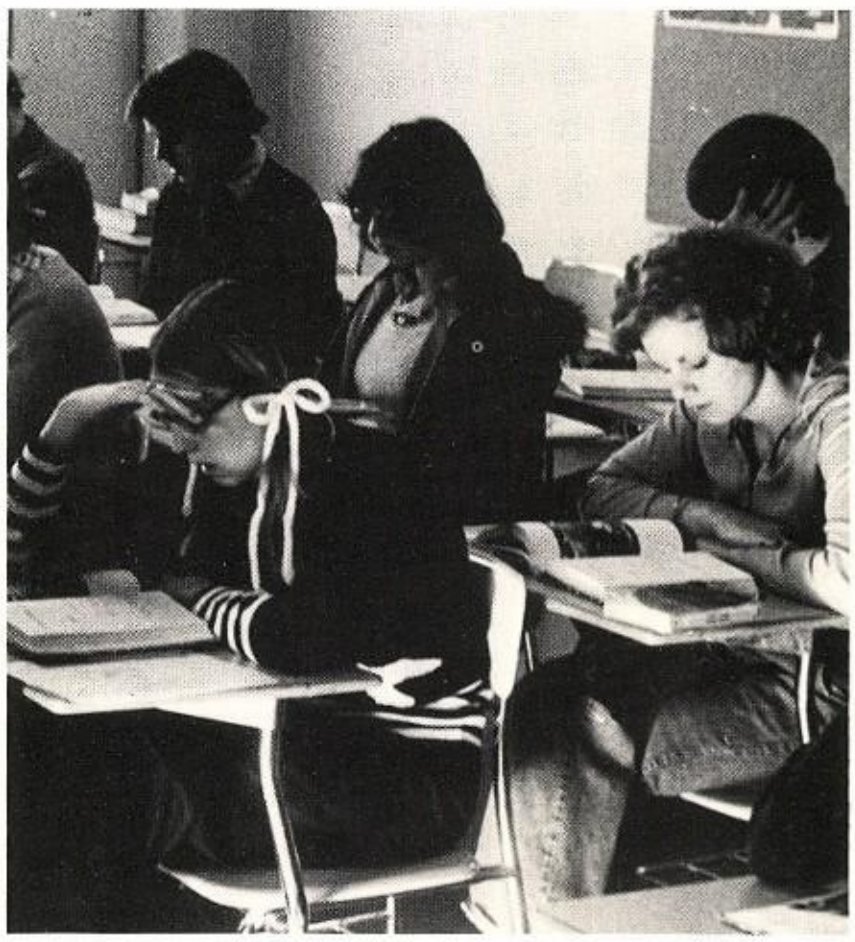
Classes Improve International Relations

Students tried to widen their horizons through the Foreign Language Department, headed by Mr. Hibbs. Along with increasing writing and speaking skills and comprehension of written material, students searched for a better understanding of historical and cultural facts about their respective countries. Mrs. Croft and Mrs. Obejas taught Spanish, while Mrs. Ganster taught French and German. Mrs. Steinke also taught French, and Mr. Hibbs, in his last year at Elston, taught German. To the credit of both teachers and students in this department, several students competed and were chosen to participate in foreign travel and study programs last summer.





CHO, ICT Seek Voc. Expertise

Student work programs were once again included in the curriculum at Elston. Students were given the opportunity to earn money and at the same time pick up valuable experience in the career of their choice. The Community Health Organization placed students in health oriented jobs at hospitals around Michigan City. Industrial Cooperative Training worked together with private businesses to provide on the job training and experience in various vocational occupations.

Students Explore Teaching Possibilities

This year eight seniors from Elston participated in the Exploratory Teaching Program. Each student was assigned an elementary school where they went for two hours each day. They helped the teacher grade papers, made bulletin boards, sometimes taught class, and also helped out at recess. Through this program the students gained practical knowledge in the area of teaching. Students taking part in the program were Erin Molden, Ken Gardner, Paula Schoof, Cindy Morford, Linda Powell, Diana Kieffer, Laura Stachowski, and Bev Porter.

Social Studies Presents The Past

The Social Studies Department offered a wide variety of classes this year. World History traced the roots of our cultures from prehistoric times to the present. U.S. History gave the students a background of the events that have forged the United States as we know it today. Government classes taught the functions and structure of our governmental system along with outlining the systems of foreign governments. Sociology exposed the complexities of everyday life, encompassing such matters as divorce, marriage, premarital sex and the changes in our society. American Problems discussed the solutions to the difficulties confronting the people of the United States, and Economics focused on aspects of the management of the national budget and the stock market.

Home Ec. Classes Cook Up Better Homemakers

Home Ec. classes instructed girls in the ways and means of managing a home economically and efficiently. In cooking classes girls acquired skills in preparing tasteful meals on a budget, while also learning the nutritional values of food. Each lunch hour a cafeteria-style meal was served to the members of our faculty. The lunch was prepared by the girls in the Commercial Foods class. Sewing courses were designed to teach students about textiles and simple or complex construction of clothes. In the spring a fashion show was conducted to display the girls' creations of the year. To prepare young ladies for family life, Design for Living classes touched on the aspects of raising children, family economics and decorating the home.

Health And Safety Classes Bare Body Secrets

In Health and Safety classes students learned about the body, mind, and safety. Topics covered in class were such things as body structure, bones, muscles, and bodily functions. Besides studying physical health, they also gained knowledge in the area of mental health by discussing repression, projection, and other related topics. Farther along in the year they learned about safety in the home and elsewhere. First aid was also included in the course.

Starting Right, Clockwise:

Gym Classes Go Co-Ed

Since Women's Lib is making changes in many areas, co-ed. in physical education is now quite a common thing. Along with the usual gymnastics, softball, volleyball, and basketball came the chance for boys and girls to get together for dance classes in P.E. Also girls had the chance to try ballet, and boys practiced marching to drills. Several juniors and seniors also gave an hour of their free time to help Miss Taylor and Mr. Croll conduct their classes.

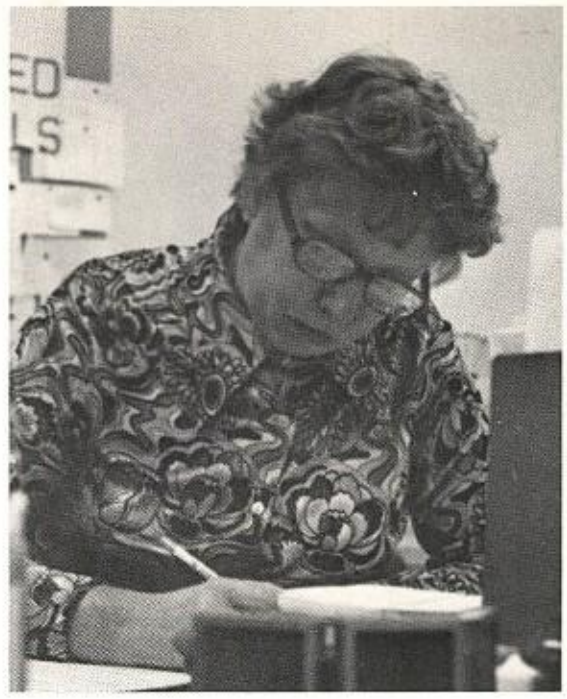
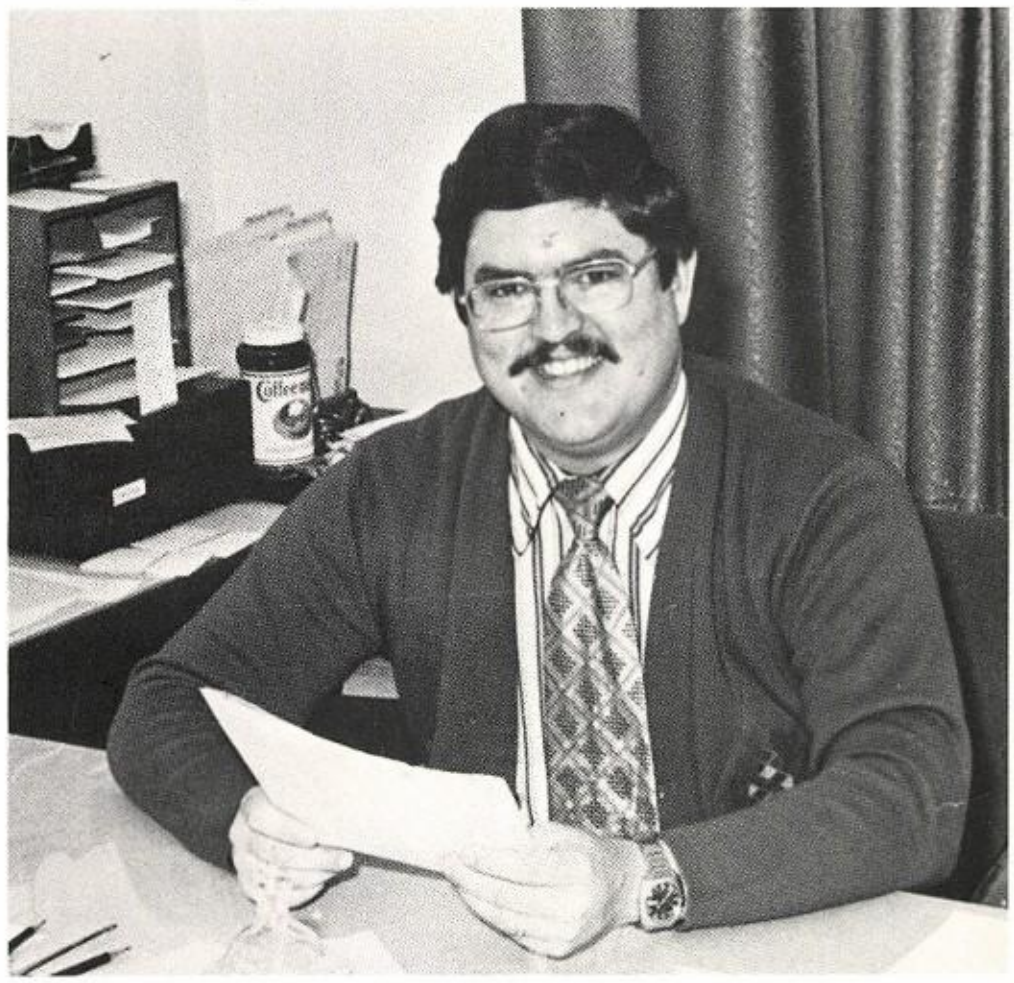
Assisting Dr. Fields in his duties are Dr. Robert Raisor, who is in charge of the secondary schools, and Mr. James Wagner, in charge of school finances. Another important part of the administration is the school board which handles the budget, general economic policy, and curriculum.



Principals And Secretaries Work For Well Balanced Program



Our office staff was one of excellence. Mr. Jones has run our school for the past eleven years. Serving as assistants, Mr. Harbart and Mr. Adams took care of discipline matters. The secretaries were also of great importance. Mrs. Larson took care of paper work, while Harriet battled with attendance. Mrs. Novak handled rentals and other money matters, and Mrs. Fisch served as receptionist to the counselors and office in general. Combining efforts, they managed to keep Elston running smoothly through another year.

Juniors Stand Out

The juniors of any school are at the core of most of its activities. As sophomores they were lost and uninformed. As seniors they will be tied up with important decisions, responsibilities and irregular schedules. But a junior class is needed to keep things lively and running smoothly. The class of '76 fulfilled this role. Some of their projects included junior concessions, representing the Great Pumpkin and planning and decorating for the prom. They proudly displayed their school loyalty by participating in red-and-white days, pep sessions and the Squeeze. With the cooperation of class officers, junior steering committee, and student council representatives, many decisions were made. All told, many interesting moments might have been missed if not for the enthusiastic class of '76.

Troop Triggers Vocal Frenzy

Once again the Varsity Cheerleaders kept the spirit of the students and fans soaring with their bubbling enthusiasm. The Devils this year were junior, Linda Brown and senior, Sharon Wantland. The captain of the squad was senior, Gayle Jones. Miss Taylor was the sponsor of the Varsity Cheerleaders and Mrs. Castle sponsored the B-Team Cheerleaders. The B-Team Cheerleaders were chosen from the ranks of the three junior highs. Inspiring sophomore exuberance, they gained valuable experience.

Softball Team Organizes For Initial Campaign

Girls' Interscholastic Softball was organized at Elston in 1974. Football coaches Dennis Curtin and Jeffrey Freitag donated their time to lead the team. The squad played under standard softball rules. There were ten players to a side, and a sixteen inch softball was used. In six ball games, the team had two wins and four losses, and although letters were not awarded this year, next year they will be.

Girl Golfers Remain Undefeated

The Girl's Golf Squad, under Coach Max Croft, was undefeated in eleven matches in 1974. Since it was formed in 1973, the girls have not lost a regular season match. Senior Pat Shagdai was the team's captain and was awarded Most Valuable Player. The squad was also successful in tournament play, winning the sectional for the second consecutive year. Playing under adverse conditions, the team placed 13th at the state tournament.

Victories Over Rogers Spotlight Volleyball Season

The girls Volleyball Team compiled a 4-3 won-lost record in 1974. Two victories over rival Rogers highlighted the season. The team also made good showings in several invitational tournaments. Linda Thompson was the squad captain, and Most Valuable Player was awarded to junior Karen Reuter. The entire varsity squad lettered. With only one senior on the team, Coach Taylor is expecting a respectable team next year.

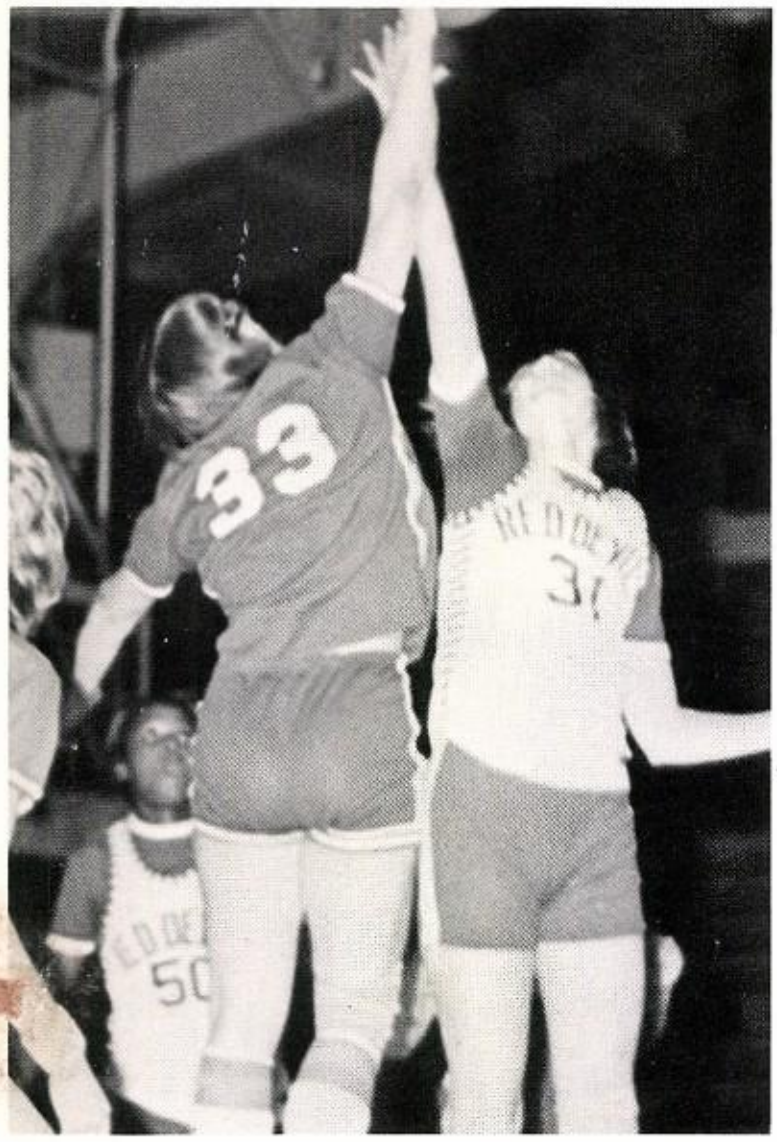
Girls' Team Nets Wins



The Girls' Basketball Team, finishing its second season, ended up with a record of 5-2 for the year's efforts. One of the year's highlights was a victory over Rogers in the second half of the season. Teri Macalka and Sandra Leonard, the only senior members, were frequent starters, along with juniors Janice Ringo, Linda Thompson, and Sue Story. Finishing out the roster were Kathy Perry, Linda Staffel, Becky Gabbert, Barb Robinson, Jean Nowak, Kathy Novak, Janice Mitchell and Beth Ryan. The Girls' Basketball Team ended their season at the Rogers' Tourney involving South Central, Hobart, Rogers and our own City Girls' Basketball Squad.

The Devils End Winter's Freeze With Red Hot Ball Playing

Coach Steinke's Red Devil baseball squad battled its way to a record-breaking season in 1974. With excellent pitching, timely hitting, and all around hustling, the team cruised to a 19-5-1 won-lost record.

Many individual standouts studded the lineup. Co-captain Mike Wolfe, outfield, hit .417, set a school record of 20 stolen bases and was named to the All-State first team. Catcher Wes Heninger hit .375, tied for 5th in the conference batting championship and was named All Conference Catcher. Pitcher George Gabor was voted MVP for his 6-0 record and .369 batting average.

The team set several school records in the course of the season. The team batting average record of .269 set in 1962 was buried by a .311 team average. 84 bases were stolen breaking the old mark of 70 stolen bases. The team blasted 203 hits, topping the old total of 189 hits. The pitching staff compiled a very impressive 1.89 earned run average for the year.

B-Team Gains Experience For Upcoming Season

Although the 1974 baseball B-team finished with a 1-12 won-lost record, Coach Mark regarded the season as a success. Pitching was a sore spot for the team, rarely holding the opposition to less than five runs. Led by Dave Bootcheck, Dave Panfil and Jack Peters, the squad averaged five runs per game. Pitcher Mark Levendowski registered the season's only win. Jack Peters and Dave Bootcheck, who hit .344 and .486, saw some varsity action.

Golfers Boast Sectional Fourth Place

The 1974 Men's Golf season was marred by inconsistent play throughout the spring. Many excellent rounds were played, but it was rare for the team to make a good all-around effort. This resulted in the team's 6 and 20 won-lost record. However, the squad performed well in the sectional, placing fourth of nineteen teams.

Junior John Else was chosen the team's Most Valuable Player. Dean Jacobson, John Else, Karl Schmidt and Jim Morse each lettered for the second time. Tom Martin lettered for the first time. With the entire squad returning, the 1975 season appears promising. If the team plays as it can, Coach Croft's golfers will be state contenders.

Elston Track Men Endure Tough Season

Although 1974 was not a winning track season, Coaches McAnally and Kerwin led a competitive team. Few lettermen returned to bolster the team, yet constant effort on the part of members brought great improvement throughout the spring. Ken Smith and Brian Smith placed 1st and 4th in the 880 yd. run and discus throw. Also, the mile relay team, consisting of Kevin Donaldson, Dave Mull, John Calvin, and John Jacques placed 5th in the conference. At the LaPorte invitational, Ken Smith ran the mile and placed 4th, Dave Mull placed 4th in the 440 yd. run and Brian Smith placed 6th in the discus throw. Again the mile relay team placed 3rd. Running were John Jacques, Bill Durham, Vic Piemonti and Brian Smith.

Football Season Proves Disappointing

Elston's 1974 Football team was a model of consistency. Facing a rough season, they fought in a manner worthy of Elston's tradition. The spirit of both team and fans was overwhelming throughout the fall. The following awards were made: Andy Schmidt, Most Valuable Player and Best Lineman; George Johnson, Best Back; Tony Johns, Best Offensive Player; Tim Korn, Best Defensive Player; and Mike Glenn, Best Underclassman.

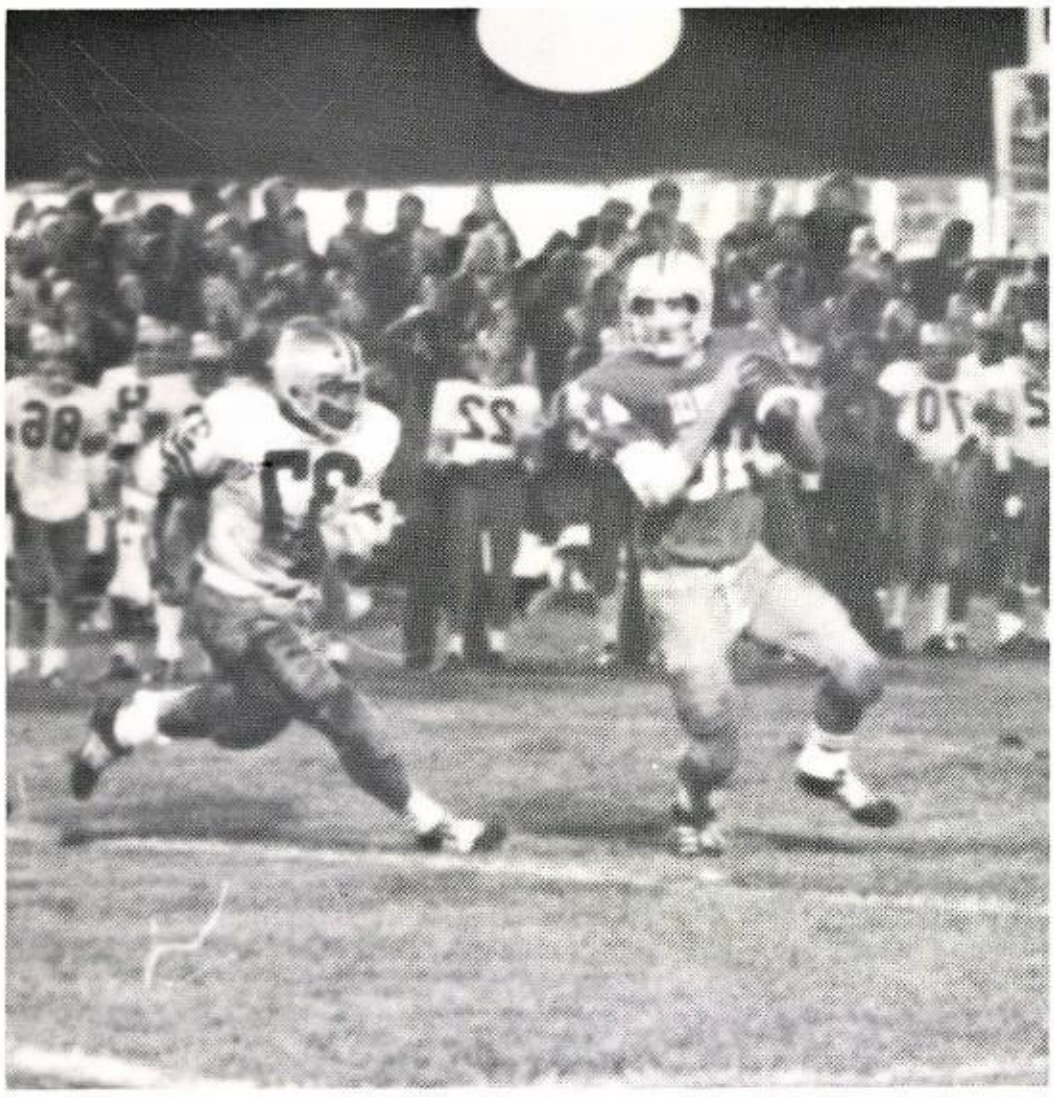
B-Team Shows Promise Throughout Season



Outstanding on the B-Team for the 1974 season were Doug LaRocco, Howard Westbrook, Doug Schmidt, and quarterback, Louis Vogel. The 0-7 record did not show the effort made or the valuable experience gained during the discouraging season. Most of the B-Team members played on the varsity squad as well.

Tennis Team Regroups With Underclassmen

With only two returning lettermen, 1974 was a rebuilding year for Coach Warner's tennis squad. Overall, the team had a 1 and 12 won-lost record, with a 1 and 6 conference record. Gilbert Green played in the number 1 spot all year and was voted Most Valuable Player. The doubles team, Jim Zawacki and Gilbert Green, was successful throughout the season. Lettering for the third year was Gilbert Green; Jim Zawacki lettered for the second year, and Mark Gresla, Bob Holmes, Dan Murray, and Rick Thompson each lettered for the first time. With the large underclass participation this year, Coach Warner is looking forward to a winning season next fall.

Cross Country Team Runs To Winning Season

The 1974 edition of the cross country squad was a fleet-footed team, and completed the season with a 12 and 8 won-lost record. The unit had a good balance of experience and youth, with members of each class standing out. Third year man, Ken Smith, was awarded Most Valuable Senior. Sophomore Kevin Higdon set a school record of 12:42.7 at the sectional, good for a second place. Kevin also was granted the Elmer Millbranth Award for Most Improved Runner. Ken and Kevin alternated running the team's number one spot.

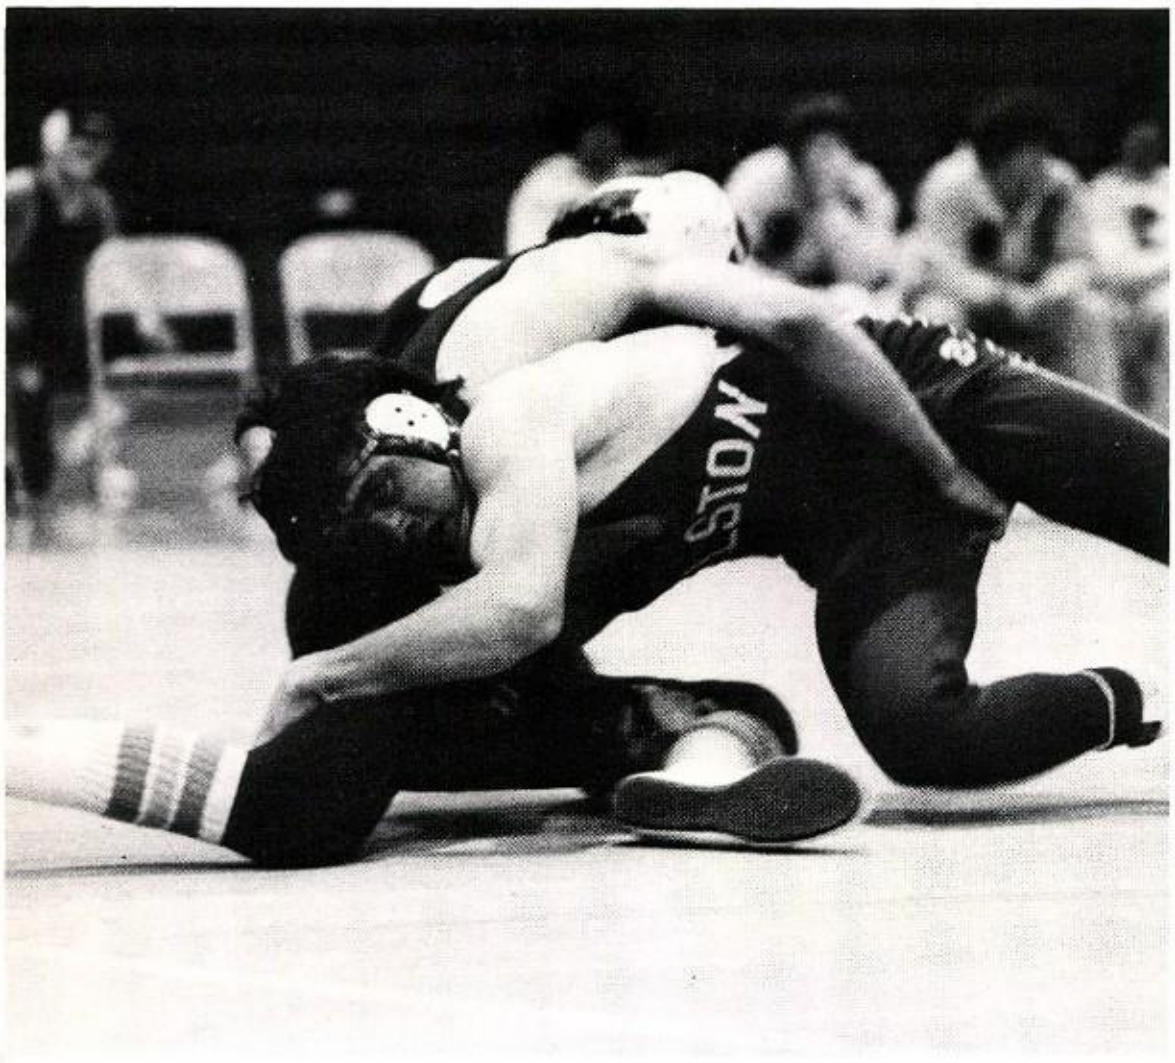
"Young Blood" Aids Matmen To 3-8 Season



The addition of several sophomores and two freshmen to the varsity roster helped the Red Devil Wrestlers to improve what might have been an even more dismal season. The team record is not an indication of the many fine individual efforts turned in for the year. Lionel Hales, a senior in the 105-pound class, ended up with a 12-6 record for the year. The other senior on the varsity was Tom VanEtten, wrestling 119. Buckeye Epstein, a sophomore wrestling 177, and Doug Schmidt, 145, ended up with 17-6 and 11-11 records respectively. These are also the two young men who represented Elston at the regional. Other active sophomores were Kurt Bergman, 155, Todd Scott, 112, Glen Perham, 167, and Doug LaRocco, 155, who Coach Martorano predicted would be an asset in the upcoming season. Steve Novak and John Doperalski were the two varsity freshmen.

Relay Wins Prove Season Bright Spots

The swimming season ended with a won-loss record of 5-9. The team was mostly composed of newcomers with five returning lettermen. Individual standouts for the season were John Davis, who swam the 500 and 200 yard freestyle, Mike Edling, who swam the 50 and 100 yard freestyle, and Greg Yeater, who swam the 200 yard individual medley and 100 yard butterfly. Diving was Debbie Karm, who this year set a new school record. The team sported a pair of excellent relay teams. The 200 yard medley relay team consisted of Slade Edling, Pat Wenzel, Tom Swedenburg and Mike Brown. John Davis, Mike Edling, Greg Yeater and Bob Smith comprised the 400 yard freestyle relay team.

Devils Regain Past Stature

The 1974-75 Red Devil Basketball Team enjoyed its best season in recent history, compiling a 18-2 won-lost record. Blending speed and height, Coach Adams molded the team into a top ranked squad. The team's depth was a deciding factor in many of the team's victories. Several times players came off the bench in the second half and sparked the team to a victory. Highlighting the season were victories over rivals LaPorte and Rogers. Senior center, Albert Johnson, and senior guard George Johnson were co-MVP's. Junior guard, Tony Branch, was the team's highest scorer and led the team on the floor.

Pink Imps Ripen For Varsity Action

Cultivating the individual talents of his young squad, Coach Steinke succeeded in producing players capable of advancing to the Red Devils. City Takes Overtime Regional

City opened the sectional tourney with a see-saw battle against Rogers. George Johnson iced the 61-57 victory with several clutch free-throws in the final minutes. Against LaPorte, the Devils faced a slow-down offense, the half time score was 20-0 City. In the fourth quarter, Elston blew a lead and went into overtime. When forced to play basketball, the Slicers folded and City ran away with a 25-18 win. In the sectional final the Red Devils outclassed a good South Central team to capture Elston's 24th straight Sectional cron.

Sparked by Albert Johnson 19 points, Elston handily feated a tenacious Valparaiso squad 66-55 in the afternoon Regional game. The Red Devils jumped to a quick lead in the first quarter against Mishawaka. However, the Cavemen stormed back as the Devil shooting cooled off. Dave Bootcheck came alive in the second half and repeatedly sank outside shots. With less than a minute remaining, Tony Branch scored to send the game into overtime. Mishawaka grabbed four points lead with less than 1:30 remaining, but the Devils refused to die and once again tied the score and faced another overtime. City seized a four point lead in the second overtime and made it stand up for a 71-69 win.

The Elston Express was derailed in the Semi-State opener by the Lebanon seven-man defense, 56-59.

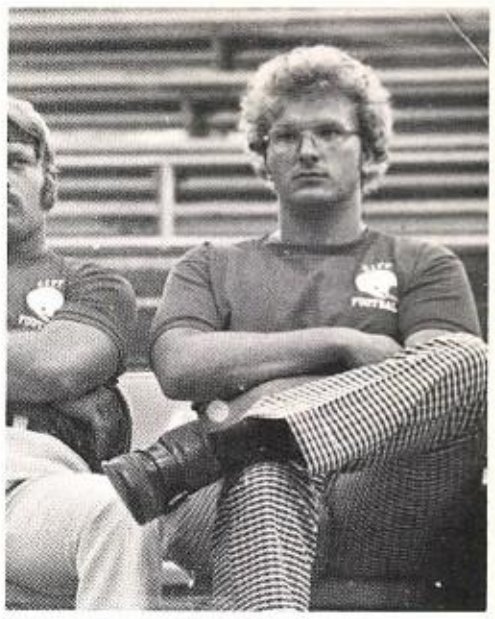
Sophomores Join Together



In the fall, the new sophomores entered Elston, excited and anxious about the year ahead. They began by electing class officers, steering committee, and student council representatives. The success of their first class project, the sophomore party, paved the way for other projects. They became valuable members of many school clubs and organizations and began to learn the meaning of school loyalty through red-and-white days, pep sessions and the Squeeze. At the end of the year, the sophomores spent many hours helping with the prom. The class of '77 finished the year with a unified spirit and many shared memories.

Staff Seeks Years Essence

ELSTONIAN led a hectic year with an inexperienced crew of staffers. Although it seemed impossible to make our deadlines, the staff pulled through to paste 208 pages together and produce an outstanding yearbook.

L. Cleveland, B. Smith, L. Siegmund, C. McConnell, P. Fithian, M. Ramion, P. Skonieczny, L. Smith, S. Willis, B. Meyer

Crimson Comet Keeps Elston Informed

This year's Comet Staff created a totally new Crimson Comet with a new format and compact size. Most of the columns stayed the same, but some of the names of the columns were changed. One new column was "From Abroad" which dealt with news from other schools. Although the staff was inexperienced, the paper always came out on time and got the news across to the students.

Band And Devilettes Create Enjoyable Entertainment

The Band, under the direction of Mr. Johns, started out on a high note this year with their trip to Ball State where they competed in a marching contest.

Spirits remained high the rest of the year as the Band played at many pep sessions, concerts, and basketball games, displaying Elston's numerous musical talents.

Chorus Swings Into Action

This year the chorus consisted of three groups: Mixed Chorus, Swing Choir, and A Capella. These groups sang at various assemblies, as well as performances outside of school to raise money for robes and music. With the help of Mr. Timberlake, the chorus performed well throughout the year. Our orchestra also performed at a number of school programs, including assemblies and the Scholarship Awards Program. For their small number, they sounded surprisingly well.

Elected Students Represent Classmates

This year's Student Council made a few imaginative innovations as well as sponsoring and preserving some of Elston's traditional activities. They dreamed up and sponsored the playing of music over the public address system during the passing periods. It was also the Council who was responsible for the continuance of dances by helping with behavior control. Another task which they undertook was the organization of the Homecoming ceremonies and the procurement of convertibles for the parade. Members of the Council were elected by their fellow students. There were ten representatives from each class, along with all class officers. The Council also elected its own officers. Meetings were generally held once a month, and members worked to demonstrate the value of student government.

Honor Students Provide Needed Services

The 1975 Elston Sr. High National Honor Society was a group of students representing the most active and achieving students of our school. The sponsor of the club, Mr. Kerwin, said, "The club tried to organize the accomplished students of the school into a group that functioned within itself to serve the community and school." Their projects included Parents' Night, Back-to-School Night, Homecoming, the Salvation Army food drive at Christmas, and ushering at various activities, as well as a field trip for participating members.

A number of students participated in our three business-oriented clubs this year. The clubs were DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America), VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America), and OEA (Office Education Association of Indiana). They were sponsored by Mr. Dry, Mr. Clevenger, and Mrs. Galles, respectively. The clubs encouraged students' enthusiasm in the area of business study and prepared them for competition in regional, state, and national level business contests.

Language clubs this year tried to increase student morale and motivation for learning a foreign language and something of the foreign country, as well as provide an opportunity to socialize with other language students. Fund-raising projects were also carried out to help support the Honors Program and other school-oriented travel and study programs. French, Spanish and German clubs were sponsored by Mrs. Ganster, Mrs. Croft, and Mr. Hibbs, respectively.

Clubs Carry Out Calculated Plans

The purpose of the Slide Rule Club was to learn how to read the slide rule and use it in mathematical calculations. The club was sponsored by Mr. Lockridge, in his last year at Elston, and they met every two weeks after school.
Members of the Math Club worked hard Thursdays after school, to prepare for contests and standardized tests. The head of the Math Department, Mrs. Hegg, sponsored the club. Included in the club's special activities were outside speakers on careers in mathematics and related subjects.

Students Explore Science Fields

Mr. Dehne, head of the Science Department, sponsored the Science Club. The main purpose of the club was to encourage students interested in the field of science and provide them with interesting lectures and demonstrations in various areas of scientific knowledge. The club's planning committee looked for speakers not only among locally known scientists and professionals, but from our own student body as well.

Clubs Inspire Spirit

Senior Class sponsors, Mrs. Croft and Mr. Warner, sponsored the new Senior Sign Company, whose purpose was to cover as much of the third floor as possible with posters to encourage our teams. Another fairly new club, the Bible Club, was sponsored by Mrs. Showalter, with the help of Mrs. E. Smith. Members worked toward a better understanding and knowledge of the Bible.

Clubs Conserve And Commercialize

Elston's Earth Club met every other Friday after school. The goal of the club was to "learn of and keep informed on the condition of the environment," said Mr. Schwab, the club's sponsor. Members of the club also read books and held discussions on related subjects.

The Student Store, sponsored by Mr. Lockridge, provided students with paper, pens, pencils, folders, cough drops, Kleenex and many other supplies necessary to the survival of Elston students throughout the year.

Students Minimize Noise Pollution

The Hall Monitors kept the halls of Elston clear of wandering students. Giving up an hour of each day, these students kept the hall noise to a minimum.

The Library Assistants were kept busy this year helping Mrs. Meer with such jobs as taking attendance, checking out books and keeping things in order.

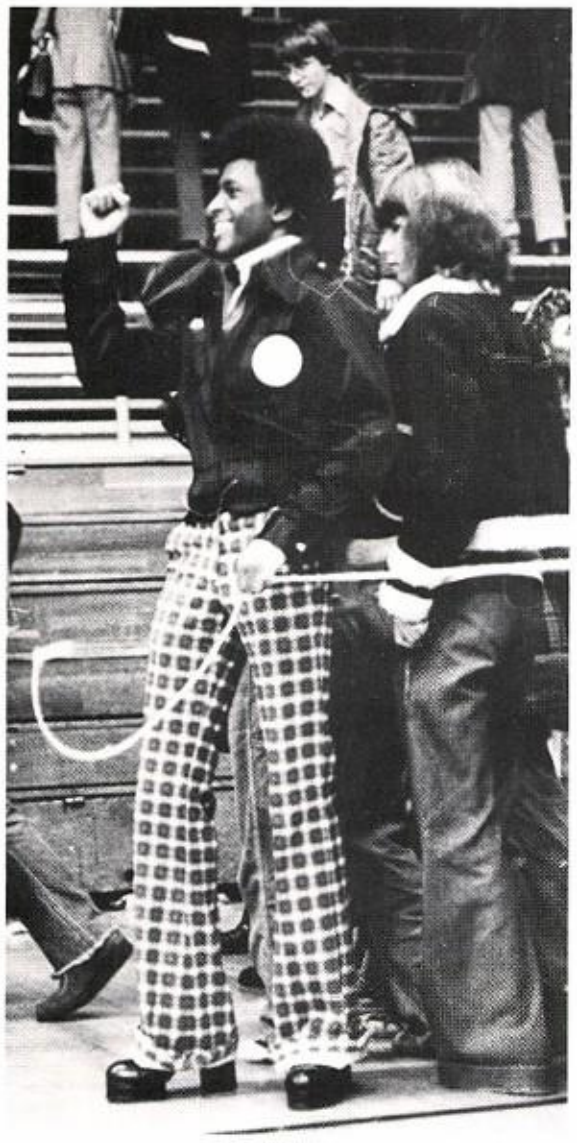
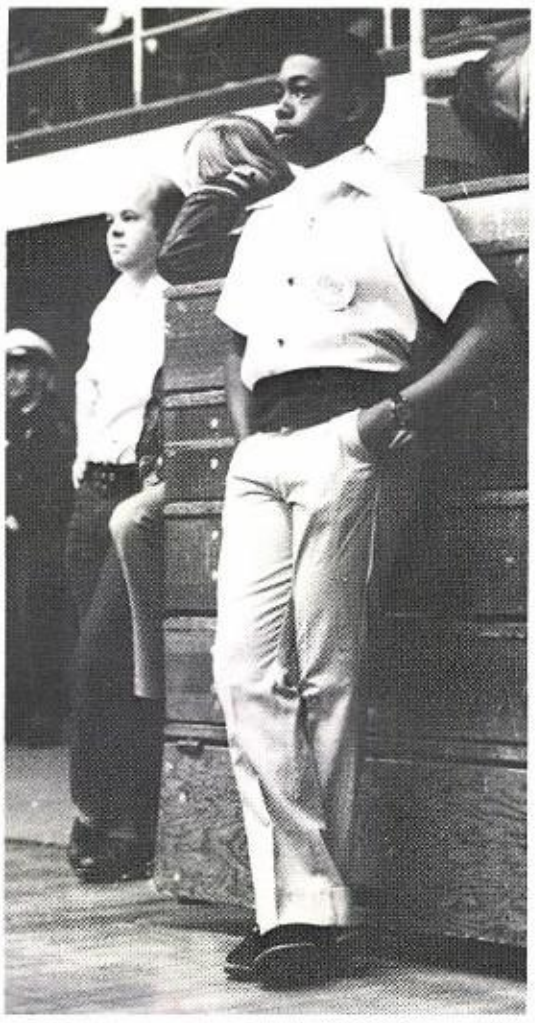
Ushers Integrate





Sponsored by Mr. Bruemmer, Ushers were at all home football and basketball games throughout the year. Ushers helped in program distribution, traffic control, keeping the playing area clean, and helping fans to find their correct seats. This year Laura Cleveland and Dorothy Holda served as Elston's first girl ushers.

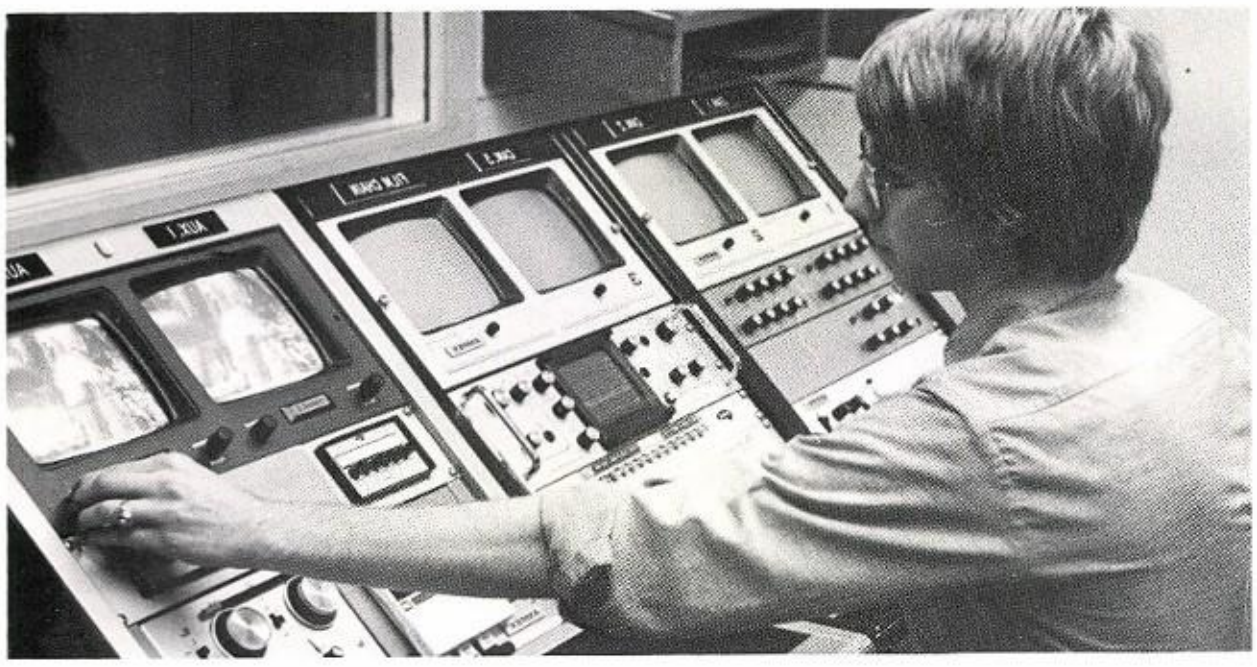
Messengers And A.V. Execute Vital Tasks



Audio Visual assistants prepared transparencies and master copies for tests. With the instruction of Mr. Laux, Audio Visual assistants performed vital tasks for Elston. Students prepared transparencies and master copies for classroom use. They also taped various television shows and played them on the school's closed circuit system and scheduled and delivered films and filmstrips.

Canteen And Concessions

Canteen workers catered to student gastronomical desires by vending snacks and tidbits on each lunch hour. Senior and junior girls forfeited their study halls to set up and retail their wares. Mr. Dehne donated his time to sponsor the canteen and do the necessary paperwork behind such a mammoth operation.

Curb Munchies

At any major sporting event throughout the school year, Red Devil fans could depend on Mr. Hans' intrepid workers to supply the necessary confectionery for the fans to maintain their roaring spirits. About 35 juniors turned out at each game to vend their wares. Their reward for hours of work was an occasional glimpse of the games during breaks.

Clubs Improve Skills

Lack of snow made for lack of skiing this winter. Because of the weather, the Ski Club only took a few trips to the slopes. However, in early February the club planned to head north to take on bigger and better slopes.

The Bowling Club, sponsored by Mr. Evett, traveled to the bowling alley every Tuesday and Thursday for a few hours of fun. For thirty weeks, they gained experience and improved their scores. The annual Holiday Tournament took place during Christmas vacation.

Cheerblock Cheers Champs

The Boys' Cheerblock, under the direction of Mr. Mark, showed great enthusiasm at every home basketball game. Many of the members participated in pre-game retreats at which they prepared for the games. They had their own cheers which showed their feeling toward the referees as well as the opposing teams. This club also provided the stripper for the basketball games.

Rote Teufels Vocalize For Victory

The traditional initiation was kept this year for the RT's. Prospective members wore such things as bathing caps, red noses, and bibs. The club had its own seating section at basketball games and helped arouse spirit at less crowded events such as wrestling and swimming meets. The RT Formal took place at the Red Lantern Inn in February. Mr. Harbart's Danceables provided the music for the affair. This is the only formal for which the girls invited the guys.

Tri-Hi-Y is an organization set up by the YMCA for senior high girls. Meetings are held twice a month at the "Y." Once members, the girls can come to the "Y" any time to swim, play basketball or use any of the other facilities there. Also, once a year a Youth and Government program is held for anyone interested in learning how our government is run. This is offered at all "Y's" in Indiana.

Future Homemakers of America is the national organization of home economics students. Membership is voluntary and all Elston students taking a home economics course are eligible to join. Elston Represented By Overseas Ramblers

Foreign language students from the class of '75 participated last summer in various study and travel programs around the world. Elston was represented in South America by Peggy Stark in Brazil, with the American Field Service, and Laura Cleveland and Lori Siegmund, with the International Fellowship Service, in Mexico and Colombia. In Europe were Terry Dunne and Mary West, in France and Germany, with the I.U. Honors Program. Susie Smidt and Jeannie Schmitt were also in Europe with private programs. Other Elston Students traveling on their own in the States and abroad were: Alex Armour in Colorado, Alan Heckendorn, bikehiking from Seattle to New York and Canada, and Dave McGowan and Sam Willis freewheeling across Europe.

This ad is brought to you by . . . a portion of the Senior Class. The Class of 1975 has hoped to leave an impression on the future classes of Elston. '75 has left some distinguishable marks, such as winning the Squeeze in our sophomore year and getting "'75" the highest on the smoke stack as juniors. This year the Senior Class has tried its utmost to disassemble the "Senior Slide." It has been stashed away in the minds of classes past. So let's leave it there!

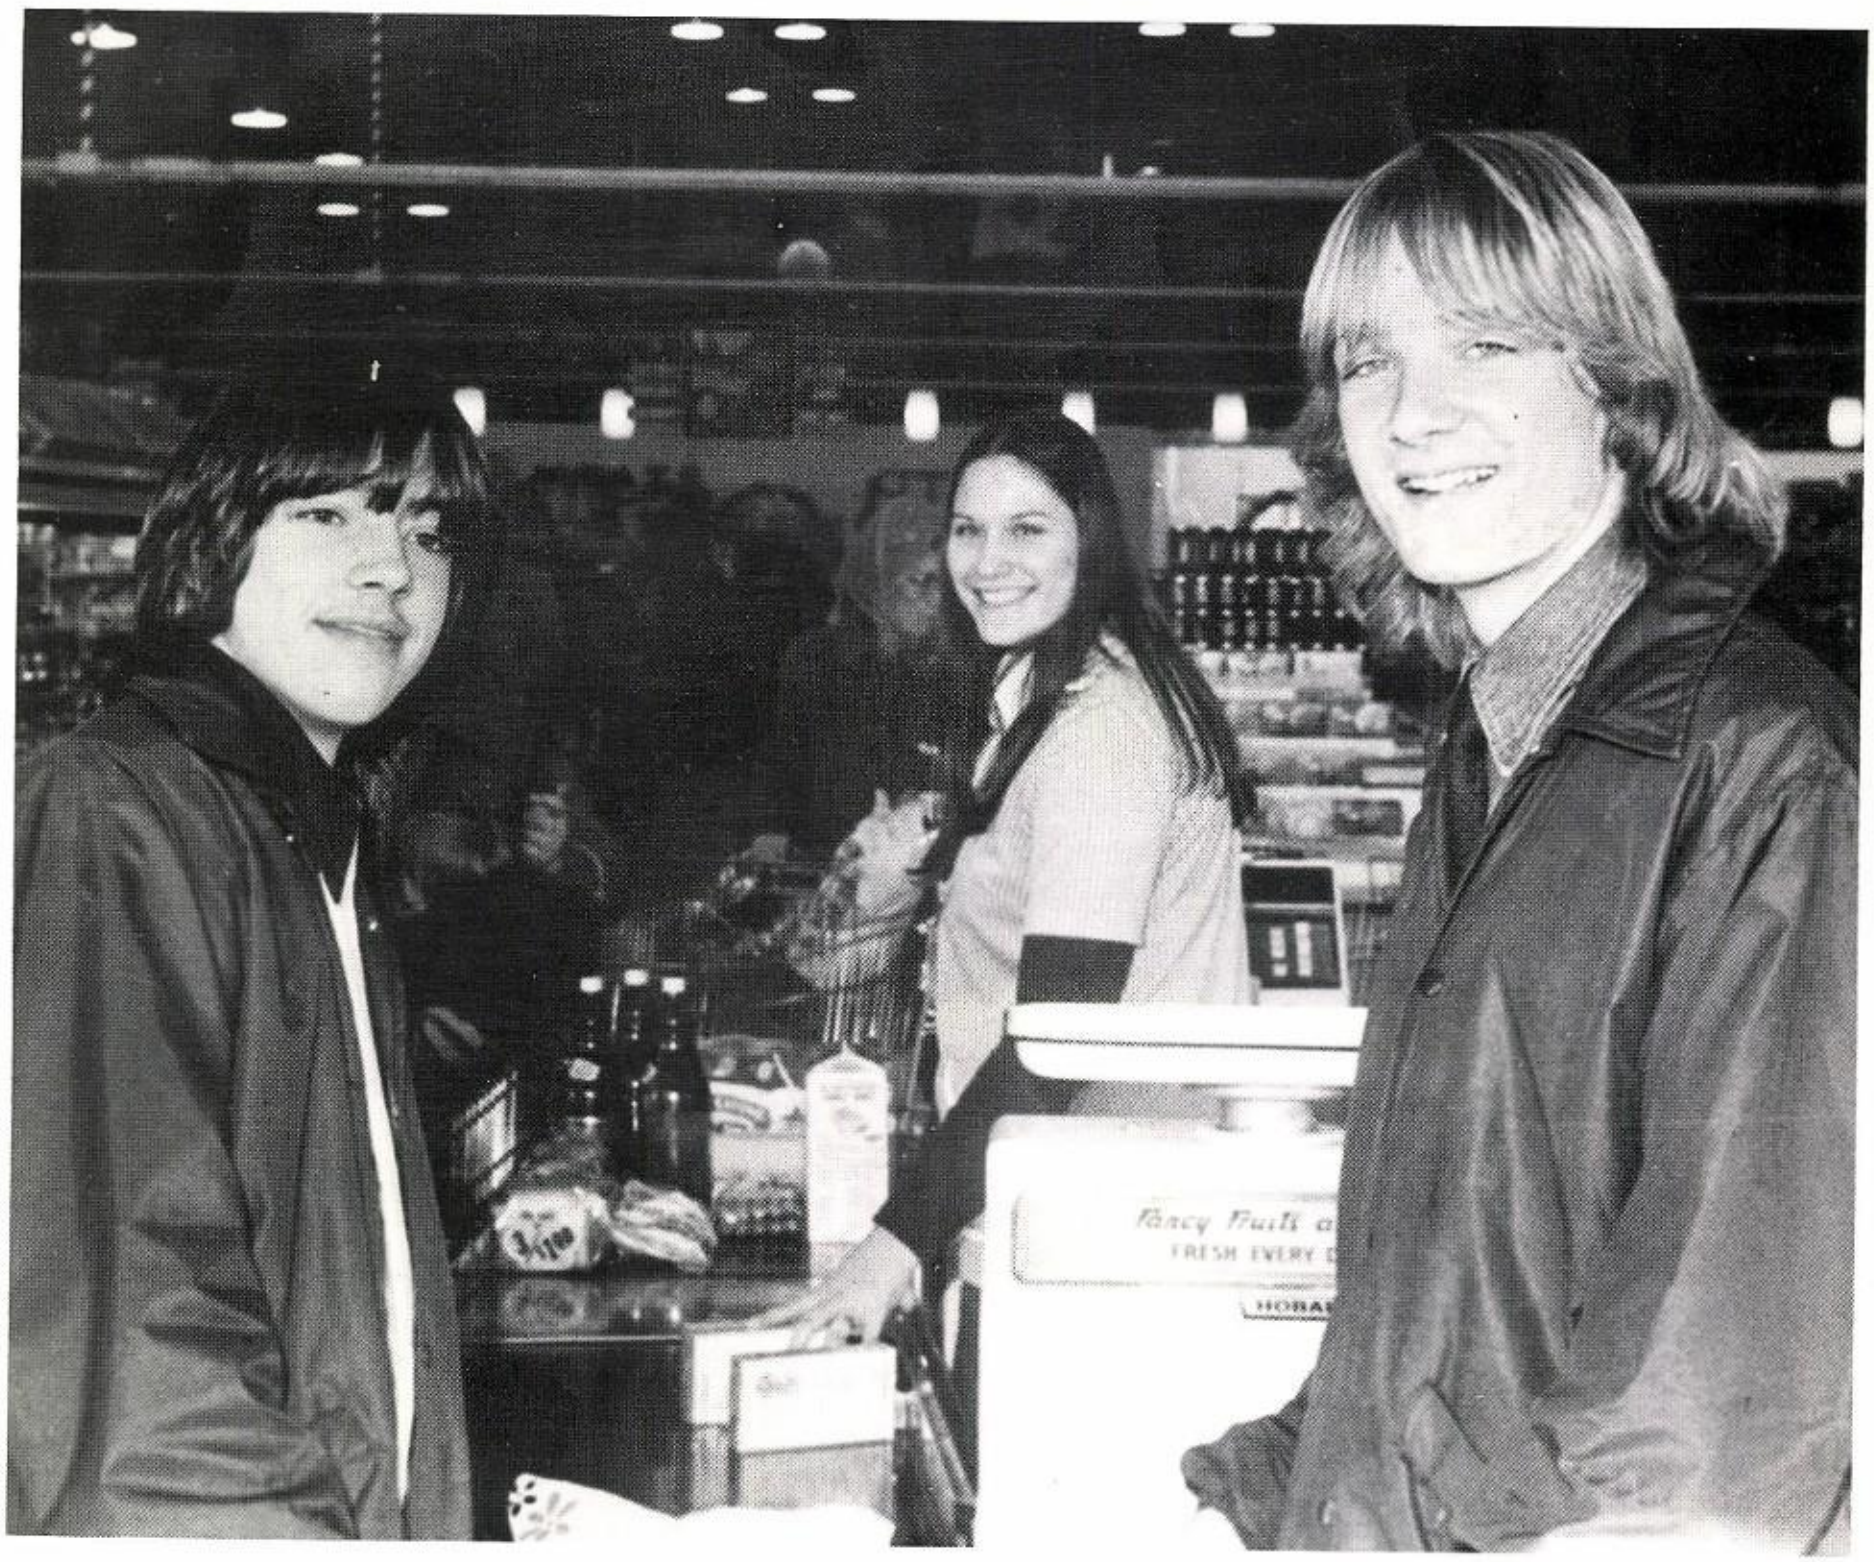
AL'S THRIFT-T-MART

3822 S. Franklin St.

1424 E. Michigan Blvd.



In many ways, AL'S THRIFT-T-MART knows how to keep its customers happy. One way is keeping the lowest possible prices on all its stock. Another is convenient service, seven days a week. And most important, the people give you fast, friendly service, "A smile in every aisle." Pictured are Nick Dabkowski, Debbie Bootcheck and Tom Orlowski, just a few of the people at Al's who make your visit a pleasant one. Come in at 3822 S. Franklin Street or at 1424 E. Michigan Blvd. and shop the easy Thrift-T-Mart way.

Marty Yuhas is ready to go, but Pam Koch prefers the sky for her ceiling. The 1975 Pontiac Gran Ville Convertible is their answer. Convertibles are not extinct and the people at SWARTZLANDER MOTORS, INC., 4411 E. Michigan Blvd., will prove it. Stop and take a look at the Gran Ville and all the other new 1975 Pontiacs and Cadillacs.

Rosanne Espar and Dave Gunderson appreciate the beauty of plants and floral arrangements provided for us by SOLBERG HOUSE OF FLOWERS, 731 Washington St. The area florists, Solberg, Wright, Ballard and Berg, are members of the Michigan City Florists Association — who help serve us better for our needs.

I see war and I see peace
I see death and I see life
I see frowns and I see smiles
I see rainbows in my teardrops

M. Nichols

Life is a wondrous and precious puzzle — to be held in the hand and yet not understand.
